GENERAL INFORMATION

THE HISTORY

MONMOUTH COLLEGE was founded on April 12, 1853, and takes its name from the Illinois city where it is located. It is the realization of the inspiration of a small group of deeply religious pioneers of Western Illinois who felt the need of an institution of higher learning for their area.

From 1853 to 1856 the school functioned as a preparatory school, but in the latter year the state legislature granted it a collegiate charter. From the beginning Monmouth has admitted women students on equal terms with men and thus is a pioneer in advanced education for women.

Back in 1853 a small group of lawyers, farmers and business men donated $1,150 to establish the Monmouth Academy in their city. Today, over one hundred years later, the college has total resources of $5,220,000 including the physical plant and endowment.

In the early days the main purpose of the infant college was to prepare earnest and intelligent leaders for the ministry of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church (now the United Presbyterian Church of North America), the church of the founders.

Today many graduates still enter active church work, but countless others leave this liberal arts college to go into all the branches of human activity. The more than six thousand alumni of the college have made invaluable contributions to society in the fields of government, education, business, industry, science, and social work.

The early years of the college were difficult for the struggling young school and on repeated occasions it did not seem that Monmouth as a college could survive. Yet survive she did despite the upheavals of depressions, wars, and a disastrous fire of 1907. The faith and support of the townspeople of Monmouth, the church which controls her, and the evergrowing body of alumni, and the faculty and administrators, sustained her and had faith in her mission and future.

Monmouth has survived the troublous times of four major wars which called her young men from the peace of the campus and classrooms to the fury of the battlefield. Monmouth men have fought and died at Gettysburg, Antietam, Belleau Woods and Chateau Thierry. They have given their lives in North Africa, France and Germany, and the islands of Guadalcanal and Wake in the Pacific.

During the first hundred years of her existence Monmouth has had the capable leadership and devotion of her first five presidents: Dr. David A. Wallace, Dr. Jackson Burgess McMichael, Dr. S. R. Lyons, Dr. Thomas Hanna McMichael, and Dr. James Harper Grier. Dr. Grier retired from his duties as president in 1952 and was succeeded by Dr. Robert Wesson Gibson, who is Monmouth's president at the present time.

Through the years the college has undergone great physical change. The first classes were held in the basement of the Christian Church of Monmouth. Today the college possesses a beautiful campus of gently rolling hills shaded by elms and maples many years older than the institution itself. Its stately buildings are of brick in the Georgian style of architecture. The building program of the college is not yet finished. The newest planned addition to the campus is Haldeman Hall, a science building to be erected within the next few years, a monument to a successful teacher and a century of progress.

The fraternity system is active on the campus and there are eight national organizations which have chapters here. Monmouth has played a major role in the history of collegiate fraternal organizations for two of the largest of the nation's sororities were founded by Monmouth's women students. The first sorority in the United States, Pi Beta Phi, was founded on April 28, 1867. On October 13, 1870, Kappa Kappa Gamma was born here. Each of these national sororities has its Alpha chapter at Monmouth College today. Together they have a total alumnæ membership of almost a hundred thousand as well as almost two hundred undergraduate chapters in the United States and Canada.

LOCATION

The college is located in a residential section of the city of Monmouth, Illinois, about 180 miles south and west of Chicago. On the main line of the Burlington railroad between Chicago and Denver, the city is only three hours from Chicago on the famous "Zephyr" streamlined trains. U. S. highways 34 and 67 intersect in the heart of the city. Monmouth airport, the oldest airport in the state of Illinois in point of continuous service, offers excellent facilities for private or charter planes.

Monmouth is located in the heart of the rich corn belt of the Midwest. Although agriculture is the backbone of the economy in this area, numerous small businesses, processing plants, and industrial firms have found the town of Monmouth a good location. The population of the city is approximately 10,000.

CONTROL

The governing body of Monmouth College is the Senate, composed of thirty-one Directors and nine Trustees. The thirty-one Directors are elected by certain official bodies of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, and by the Alumni Association. The Trustees are elected by the Senate.

The college was originally chartered by the State of Illinois on February 16, 1857, with complete control vested in the Synod of Illinois of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church. When that church merged with the Associate Presbyterian Church, the control was assumed by the Synod of Illinois of the new church, known as the United Presbyterian Church of North America. Later the Synod of Illinois invited other bodies to associate themselves with it in the control of the institution.

At present, the following bodies are permitted to elect directors to the Senate to the number indicated.

The Synod of Illinois (9).

The Second Synod (Ohio and Indiana) (9).

The Synod of Nebraska (3).

The Presbytery of Keokuk (1).

The Alumni Association (9).

ACCREDITED STANDING

MONMOUTH COLLEGE IS:

On the latest list of approved institutions published by the Association of American Universities.

A member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Given Class A rating by the University of Illinois.

A member of the Association of American Colleges.

Approved by the American Chemical Society.

Approved by American Association of University Women.

ASSOCIATED COLLEGES

Monmouth is a member of the Mid-West Conference of Liberal Arts Colleges, an association of colleges located in the four states of Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota. The Conference includes, besides Monmouth, Carleton, Coe, Cornell, Grinnell, Knox, Lawrence, Ripon, and St. Olaf.

These distinguished, independent colleges, of similar size, organization and aim, are drawn together in various undertakings, curricular and extra-curricular, through their common allegiance to liberal education.

PHYSICAL PLANT

The College is in the eastern section of Monmouth, on a beautiful rolling campus of thirty acres. Compact, but not crowded, the campus is laid out so that all students can get to any building on the campus in a very few minutes.

ACADEMIC BUILDINGS

WALLACE HALL is named for the first president of the College, Dr. David A. Wallace. The main recitation building, it contains twenty-two classrooms, as well as faculty offices, waiting rooms, and recreation rooms. The lower floor of this building has recently been converted into an attractively-furnished Student Union, with snack bar, lounge, and social room. It was erected in 1909.

J. B. McMICHAEL SCIENCE HALL is named for the second president of the College. It was completed in 1910, and contains the lecture rooms and laboratories in biology, physics, geology, chemistry, botany, and zoology, as well as faculty offices.

THE LIBRARY BUILDING is the result of a gift by Andrew Carnegie. Erected in 1907, it was extensively redecorated in the summer of 1947. It houses two reading rooms, library offices and stacks, and depository stacks for government documents. In addition the main administrative offices of the college are located in this building, including the office of the president, business manager, dean of the college, dean of women, registrar, and director of admissions, personnel and placement.

THE AUDITORIUM is better known by the students as "The Chapel." Nine hundred persons can be seated in the main room of this building, which has a Mason & Hamlin grand piano, and a three-manual Schantz organ, installed in 1946. This building also contains two of the teaching studios of the Music Department, a small recital-rehearsal hall, three piano practice rooms, and a two-manual Schantz practice organ, installed in 1949.

THE FINE ARTS BUILDING was acquired in 1931. The building, one of the most attractive residences in Monmouth, has housed the Department for the Appreciation of Art and the Department of Music ever since. It contains reading and display rooms for the fine arts, five music studios and three piano practice rooms and lecture rooms for classes in art and music.

ALUMNI HALL, located directly across the street from the main campus, houses the Public Relations, Alumni, and Publicity Offices.

RESIDENCE BUILDINGS

McMICHAEL HALL, the oldest residence hall now on the campus, was constructed in 1915. A fireproof structure throughout, it houses normally 85 young women in single and double rooms. This building also contains the main dining room for the college, and the kitchen. There is hot and cold water in each room.

JAMES HARPER GRIER HALL is a residence hall for women, completed in 1940. In addition to providing quarters for 100 young women, it contains parlors, a "rumpus room," and a suite for the house director.

ALICE B. WINBIGLER HALL is the only building on the campus named for a teacher, honoring Miss Winbigler, who taught for fifty years in the mathematics department. In addition to rooms for 90 girls, it houses the Infirmary, and the laboratories of the Department of Home Economics. There are parlors, "rumpus room," and a suite for the house director. It was first occupied in 1946.

SUNNYSIDE, a residence for approximately thirty young women, provides hot and cold water in each room, and a recreation room, with smaller reception room and parlors, and a suite for the house director.

THE MANOR is the new home of the president of the college. It was acquired in 1949, partly by purchase and partly by gift. The home is located a block from the main campus.

FULTON HALL, a residence hall for men, was occupied for the first time in September, 1951. This latest addition to Monmouth's housing facilities provides rooms and recreation halls for 120 young men. Residents of Fulton Hall board at the college dining room.

THE FRATERNITY HOUSES are the Alpha Tau Omega, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Theta Chi, each providing room and board for the majority of the men affiliated with the fraternal organization.

ATHLETIC FACILITIES

The heart of the Monmouth athletic and physical education program is the college gymnasium, completed in 1925. Basketball floor, swimming pool, cinder track, firing range for rifle and pistol, handball courts, locker-room and shower facilities, office for the physical education faculty, are all provided in this beautiful structure.

Adjacent to the gymnasium, and a component part of it, is the athletic field of ten acres, making provision for baseball, football, track, touch football, archery, tennis, and intramural sports.

LABORATORIES

BIOLOGY—The department of biology occupies the entire first floor of Science Hall, providing three laboratories, a lecture room, store room, library and offices and laboratory for the professors. The largest laboratory is used for the beginning students and is equipped for forty-four students per section. One of the smaller laboratories is equipped with physiological apparatus and the other is a fully equipped, modern bacteriological laboratory. The microscopic slides belonging to the department are the best that can be obtained. Sets for courses in zoology, botany, vertebrate embryology and histology are extensive. There are large numbers of preserved specimens in the museum representing every phylum of the animal and plant kingdoms. These play an important part in the lecture demonstrations. One of the most outstanding of the collections is the butterfly and moth collection of more than five thousand species. The molluscan shell, bird, and bird's egg collections are quite complete.

CHEMISTRY—The chemistry department occupies the entire second floor of Science Hall, and has ample room and equipment for two hundred or more students. A special effort has been put forth to individualize the entire laboratory program. Separate equipment and lockers and chemical supplies are provided for each student whenever this is practicable, particularly in the earlier courses. The department is fully prepared on this basis to offer standard work in general, analytical, organic, and physical chemistry as well as special courses in chemical calculations, biochemistry, use of chemical literature, and undergraduate research. Semi-micro methods have been introduced. The work of this department has been found adequate as preparation for advanced study in graduate and medical institutions, and for entering positions in the industrial field and teaching. This department is recognized by the American Chemical Society as meeting the minimum standards for the professional training of chemists at the bachelor's degree level.

GEOLOGY—The geology and mineralogy laboratory is located on the ground floor of the science building. It is supplied with ample equipment and an abundance of material for the study of determinative mineralogy, and historical geology. The lighting and physical setting of the rooms are conducive to thorough work. Adjoining this laboratory is the private laboratory and office of the professor in charge. The library of the college contains a large selection of geological literature.

PHYSICS—The physics laboratories are located on the ground floor of the science building. There are three laboratories, two smaller ones in addition to the main laboratory. A stock room adjoining the main laboratory supplies demonstration apparatus for the lecture room as well as the needs of the laboratories. The stock room is equipped properly for construction, repair, maintenance, and assembling of equipment. All the laboratories are adapted to experimental studies in mechanics, heat, electricity, sound and light. Laboratory work is so arranged, with proper equipment and instruction provided, that the student is able to prove for himself the fundamental laws and equations of physics. The steady growth of the department is encouraged by regular additions of valuable apparatus for laboratory and lecture methods.

THE LIBRARY

The Monmouth College Library is housed in a building given by Andrew Carnegie. On the second floor are the main reading, reference and periodical rooms, the charging desk, catalog, and librarians' offices. At the rear of this floor are the stacks which house the greater number of the books and within which are nine cubicles for study. This floor has been redecorated recently and has a new sound-proof ceiling, a new cork tile flooring and fluorescent lighting, making an attractive reading room. The rear of the first floor contains stacks and reading room in which are collected the books in the department of business administration, history, and the natural sciences. The seating capacity of both floors is 195. Documents, older periodicals, and duplicate material are shelved in the basement.

The library contains over 60,000 volumes. It is a depository library for many government documents. Around 400 periodicals—general and scientific—are currently received, including both American and foreign publications.

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS—The Carnegie Foundation in 1930 presented the library a collection of material for the study of art which included over 200 books and 2,000 mounted prints and photographs. Material is constantly being added to this collection so that in addition to art books, over 5,000 slides, 6,000 prints, 1,900 music records, 2 phonographs, and 3 excellent stereopticons are available. The art books in foreign languages, portfolios, pictures, slides, etc., are housed in the Fine Arts Library where they are in constant use by the classes. Others are in the main library collection. Four departmental libraries are housed in the McMichael Science Hall, viz., Biology, Chemistry, Geology and Physics.

The library's collection of books in history, classical language, modern language, social science, and English literature, has been enriched by the addition of over a thousand volumes from private libraries of seven former Monmouth professors—Professors Chaffee, Clark, Cleland, Goodrich, Owen, Robinson, and Van Gundy.

In addition to the books in the main library collection, the Department of Music library contains 1,500 phonograph records, a collection of miniature scores, a collection of music for Violin, Organ, Piano, and Voice, and a carefully chosen list of books on music subjects.

The Martin Oriental Collection has been provided by Dr.

Howard H. Martin of the University of Washington, a former Monmouth student. This Oriental Collection has been augmented by gifts from Takashi Komatsu of the class of 1910.

The Warren County Public Library of over 40,000 volumes cooperates closely with the college in extending free privileges to all students and faculty.

Two recent memorial funds are those given in memory of Dean J. S. Cleland who was Dean of the College from 1927 to December, 1951, and Dr. C. A. Owen, head of the English department from 1937 to April, 1951.

LIBRARY ENDOWMENTS

1. The John A. and Margaret J. Elliott Library of Religious Education. A special fund has been set apart through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Elliott, of College Corner, Ohio, for the maintenance and enlargement of a library in connection with the Department of Biblical Literature.

2. The John Lawrence Teare Memorial Library Fund. This fund of $2,000.00 was presented by John K. and Grace C. Teare of Monmouth, Illinois, in memory of their son, John Lawrence Teare, '16, who died in the U. S. Naval Service on September 11th, 1918, at Bumkin Island, Boston Harbor. The income is to be used for the purchase of books related to the social sciences.

3. The Kappa Kappa Gamma Memorial Fund. The Kappa Kappa Gamma national sorority, founded at Monmouth College in 1870, in 1931 established as a memorial to its founders, a library fund in the amount of $3,750. The income from this fund is used each year in the purchase of books for the library.

ENDOWED PROFESSORSHIPS

A large part of the endowment fund of the college has been given by those who desire to make perpetual certain chairs and departments of the college. These endowed professorships are:

1. The Harding Professorship of English Language and Literature, endowed by General A. C. Harding of Illinois in 1856.

2. The Pressly Professorship of Natural Science, endowed by W. P. Pressly of Illinois in 1886.

3. The Alumni Professorship of Philosophy, endowed by the Alumni of the College in 1881.

4. The Mathers Professorship of Social Science, endowed by Joseph Mathers of Illinois in 1895.

5. The Law Foundation of English Literature, endowed by James and Ellen C. Law of New York in 1899.

6. The John Young Bible Chair. Through the efforts of the United Presbyterian Board of Education, a chair of Bible has been endowed. This chair is known as the "John Young Chair of Bible," in memory of John Young of Knox County, Illinois, from whose estate came the largest contribution to the fund.

7. The Alice Winbigler Chair of Mathematics, endowed by Miss Alice Winbigler in memory of her sister, Julia E. Winbigler, and through funds added by friends of Miss Winbigler.

8. The Clyde Fulton Young Chair of Political Science. This department has been endowed in the amount of $40,000 by Clyde Fulton Young, A. B., LL. B., of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He was a graduate of the Class of 1899.

THE KILLOUGH LECTURE FUND

Hon. W. W. Stetson of Auburn, Maine, a few years ago, by the gift of $5,000 endowed a fund to be known as the "Killough Lecture Fund." This provides for bringing before the students of Monmouth College from time to time outstanding speakers.

ADMISSION

ADMISSION BY CERTIFICATE may be granted to applicants fulfilling the following requirements:

1. Graduation from a high school on the approved list of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, or an equivalent association, or on the approved list of a state university.
2. Recommendation of the principal or superintendent.
3. A satisfactory record in fifteen units of high school subjects. A unit is defined as a subject carried for one year of not less than thirty-six weeks with five recitation periods of at least forty minutes each.
 - a. Applicants ranking in the highest one-fourth of a graduating class of forty or more may be admitted without regard to the pattern of subjects presented.
 - b. Applicants ranking in the middle half of graduating classes numbering forty or more, and those in the upper three-fourths of graduating classes under forty may be admitted with a minimum of ten units in the following fields: English, history, or social science, foreign language, mathematics, or science. Three units must be in English.
 - c. Applicants ranking in the lower one-half of graduating classes may be required to take an entrance examination.
 - d. Those in the lowest one-fourth of the graduating class will not usually be admitted.

Application for admission should be made on official forms which will be furnished by the Director of Admissions upon request. This application should be filed with the Director of Admissions as early as possible.

Tentative action upon the applications will be taken upon receipt of parts one and two of the application forms. Final action will be taken when the proper officer of the high school has certified graduation.

ADVANCED STANDING

A student who enters from another college must present a letter of honorable dismissal and a transcript showing entrance credits accepted and credits earned while in attendance at that college, and a statement indicating that the student is in good standing at the college from which transfer is made.

COUNSELING

VOCATIONAL AND PRE-VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Monmouth holds two objectives before her students. The first is the opportunity for a broad, thorough, cultural education; the second is an integrated program of studies which provides vocational and pre-professional training.

Those who wish to develop their powers of appreciation in full measure and who plan a career in which breadth of information, scientific attitude, and developed personality are necessary for success are wise to secure the broad culture and general information of a liberal arts course. Young men and women sometimes believe that a liberal arts course is preparatory to a few vocations only. Yet, many more of the attractive occupations are open only to those who have a liberal education.

STUDENT PERSONNEL SERVICE

The college tries to help students to make satisfactory academic, personal, and vocational adjustments. This it does formally through the offices of the president, the deans, and the director of personnel, and through a dual system of faculty counselors and advisers.

Detailed information concerning each student is secured from the high school and college records by means of various questionnaires, examinations and inventories. The data compiled and analyzed serve as a basis for counseling students individually in regard to their courses of study, extra-curricular activities, choice of career, pre-professional training, etc.

The library is well stocked with books and pamphlets on occupational opportunities, and complete information on graduate, professional and training schools is kept on file and available for use. The college maintains a placement bureau that freely assists students in finding satisfactory employment after graduation. In order to provide for counsel concerning pre-professional training for certain fields of life work, special faculty committees have been appointed.

COUNSELING PROGRAM

Before the opening of the school year, one member of the faculty becomes a counselor to each student admitted to the freshman class. The counselor acts as a friendly personal adviser to the student and aids him in his educational, social and personal adjustments. The Dean of the College is chairman of the group of freshman advisers.

The plan of studies for the work of the first year in college is outlined by the counselor in consultation with the student.

PLAN OF STUDY

THE AIM OF MONMOUTH COLLEGE

MONMOUTH COLLEGE proposes to provide young men and women with an understanding of the world in which they live, in all of its most general aspects;

To provide them with an intelligent understanding and comprehension of the basic structure of the world of physical nature, the world of living organisms from the lowest to the highest forms, the world of human society and institutions, the world of ideas including the products of both imagination and conceptual thinking, and the world of values;

To provide them with a mature grasp of some one field of study, and to assure a moderate degree of skill in the use of the intellect.

Monmouth affirms that such a course of study is the only sound foundation for an effective life in modern society, both as a necessary preparation for further training in any occupation or profession that involves the exercise of personal responsibility, and for any function in any phase of human life requiring judgment and understanding in addition to mere skill.

THE CURRICULUM

The curriculum of Monmouth College aims to achieve its primary purpose by means of appropriate distribution requirements governing the work in the first two years, and by organizing the work of the last two years in a field of concentration. The purposes of these requirements are as follows:

- I. The distribution requirements are intended to help the student attain:
 - A. A broad and comprehensive acquaintance with the basic characteristics of the world in which we live.
 - B. Familiarity with the tools of the intellect, including
 1. The experimental methods (laboratory sciences).
 2. The method of empirical generalization (social sciences).
 3. Language (English composition and foreign languages).
 4. The method of formal analysis (mathematics and logic).
- II. The requirements of a field of concentration are intended to help the student attain:
 - A. A mature understanding of some one field of study.
 - B. Intensive training and skill in the use of one or more of the tools of the intellect.

DEGREES

The outline of courses described below leads to a bachelor's degree. The degree regularly conferred is Bachelor of Arts. Candidates for degrees shall make formal application for them at the opening of the college year in which they seek their degrees. This application must be in the hands of the registrar not later than the fourth Wednesday of the first semester. The course may be completed at the close of either semester but the formal graduation will occur at the Commencement in June, at which time all degrees are conferred. The senior year must be spent in residence.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Every student is required to present for graduation 124 semester hours of work. These must include all of the courses required for graduation and in these 124 semester hours the student must attain or surpass an average grade of C (a grade point average of 2.)

DISTRIBUTION

DIVISION I.

Languages, literature, and arts. (English, French, German, Greek, Latin Spanish, speech, Bible, art, music).

(A) Specific requirements:

1. English 101, 102, 6 hours.
2. Speech 101, 102 or 221, 2 hours.
3. Bible, 5 hours. Of the five hours required for graduation, two must be completed by the end of the freshman year, and the other three must be taken in the sophomore, junior, or senior year.
4. Foreign Language. (a) Two years in college of one foreign language or the equivalent, which is determined by placement examination; or (b) Proficiency in reading a foreign language, as proved by special examination offered in September and January.

(See "Correlation of high school and college foreign language study," Department of Modern Languages.)

NOTE : English 101, 102; Physical Education; and Speech 101 or 102 or 221; and a beginning course (2 hours) in Bible or religion are required in the freshman year, unless the student is following one of the suggested curricula which postpones one or more of these courses until the sophomore year.

- (B). Two semesters in courses in Division I not included in (A), each course at least 2 hours.

Social Studies. (history, economics, political science, sociology, psychology, philosophy, Education 307 and 313, Geography 300, 310).

Four semesters, two of which must form a year's sequence in one field.

Sciences and mathematics. (biology, chemistry, geology, physics, mathematics, Home Economics 203 and 301).

Four semesters, two of which must form a year's sequence in one laboratory science.

NOTE: Instead of taking the work in class, the student may satisfy any of these requirements by passing an examination sufficiently comprehensive to test his knowledge of the work presented in the required course or courses. This procedure will not entitle the student to credit in semester hours except when carried out under the provisions for independent study.

These examinations must be passed satisfactorily before the beginning of the second semester of the year in which the required work must be done.

Freshmen and sophomores will be required to take physical education unless excused. Each student will be required to pass a swimming test.

The Field of Concentration shall consist of at least 40 hours, of which at least 24 hours must be in one department, and 16 hours must be in one or two related departments to be specified by the major department. Not more than 16 hours in courses numbered less than 200 may be included in this minimum of 40 hours. The Field of Concentration must be chosen not later than the beginning of the junior year.

Thirty-two hours of the candidate's work must be in the courses of the Upper College, i. e., courses numbered 300 or over.

"D" (1.0) is a passing grade, but an average of "C" (2.0) is required in the 124 hours presented for graduation. All courses in the field of concentration must be "C" grade or better.

AGRICULTURE

The student looking forward to agriculture will find courses in biology, chemistry, economics and business administration of advantage as pre-vocational training. The curriculum outlined below will introduce the student to the basic sciences as well as provide a general educational experience. Many Monmouth graduates are farmers, successful in their occupation and influential in their community.

ART

The curriculum is quite flexible, including all the graduation requirements, allowing 21 hours of electives, even if the maximum of 36 hours is allowed for the major field. Since the art major requires only 24 hours, 33 hours of electives could be chosen, allowing for more hours in education for those who plan to teach.

BIOLOGY

To prepare for graduate work in biology, a student should be well grounded in chemistry. A background in mathematics and physics is also desirable. A reading knowledge of German and French will be useful. Suggested electives include psychology, philosophy and social science. To prepare for teaching in high school, the program should include sufficient courses in education. Other curricula leading to various fields of applied biology are suggested in this section under other headings.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Monmouth offers a comprehensive program of courses in the field of business administration. This program embraces courses designed to acquaint the student with several phases of business administration including accounting and auditing, banking, corporation finance, insurance, personnel administration, business law, and business organization and promotion.

The work of the first two years is outlined in detail and is common to all fields. It is intended to provide each student with a broad cultural foundation for the advanced courses in the department. During the junior and senior years each student's program is built from the courses listed and from electives fitting the needs and interests of the individual student.

Monmouth's business administration program is primarily designed to equip the graduate with the tools necessary to secure gainful employment in his field. However, the curriculum is readily adaptable to the student who is preparing to do graduate work in economic theory, accounting, and other areas.

CHEMISTRY

The courses outlined here prepare the student for certification by the department chairman as having fulfilled the minimum requirements adopted by the American Chemical Society for the professional training of chemists. These courses are also adequate preparation for graduate work in chemistry. Electives may include: biology, chemical research, introduction to statistics, advanced courses in mathematics and physics, geology, English, philosophy, psychology and other social sciences, German and French.

Typical careers following this program are industrial research, control, and production; and collegiate and university teaching and research. Graduate study up to three years should be planned, for which good students often find considerable financial help provided (assistants, scholarships, fellowships).

CHURCH SECRETARY, CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP

The leaders of our churches call attention to an increasing need for young women equipped to become Directors of Religious Education and pastor's assistants. Student interested in this area should consult the head of the Bible Department. Many other forms of service are open to those equipped to be leaders in Christian work.

DENTISTRY

The accredited dental schools of the country require two or more years general preparation that must include certain basic courses in sciences and a number of courses of general cultural value. Monmouth recommends that four years of pre-professional training be secured whenever possible because of the definite advantage of such training in later years. The suggestion of the Dental School of the University of Michigan is highly significant. "To secure a well balanced educational program it is desirable that three or four years be devoted to pre-professional training. Students having additional preparation of a well-balanced and broadly cultural nature have a distinct advantage in the pursuit of the professional curriculum and are better equipped for professional and civic life."

The following two year program of study meets the minimum requirements of most dental schools. During the junior and senior years the student should follow the program of study preparatory to the field of medicine.

ENGINEERING

Students interested in engineering may take advantage of the Binary Programs sponsored by Monmouth College in cooperation with Case Institute of Technology, Cleveland, Ohio, and Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, Illinois.

Briefly, this program calls for a three-year program of liberal arts study at Monmouth, followed by two years of engineering work at Case Institute or Illinois Institute. Upon completion of the five-year program the student will receive degrees from both Monmouth and the engineering school which he attends.

The Binary Program is designed to provide the engineering student with all the best features of two types of educational work, that of the liberal arts college and the technical engineering school. This combination is of great importance, for in an increasing degree men who have attained eminence as engineers are required to have a broad background in liberal education to carry out their duties as executives in engineering work.

Suggested Three-Year Program:

A two-year pre-engineering program can also be arranged by a proper selection from the above courses for those who plan on taking only two years at Monmouth College.

If the student who desires to continue the study of engineering pursues a four-year course at Monmouth, courses for the Senior year are to be selected from advanced courses in chemistry, physics, and mathematics. Courses necessary to satisfy graduation requirements and other cultural courses should be included.

GEOLOGY

A student who majors in geology and is interested in this subject as a profession should include within his curriculum courses in chemistry, biology, physics, and mathematics in order to be prepared for graduate work in this field. In order that he may be prepared for positions of responsibility in the mining and other extractive industries, it is advisable to have training in accounting and other phases of economics and business administration.

GOVERNMENT SERVICE

Any student desiring to make a career of government, either in public administration or in politics, will want to know something about government. He may wish to major in this field by taking a course of studies like that outlined in the accompanying curriculum. Besides acquiring knowledge of history, economics, statistics, etc., it is very important that a student should become well trained in reading, writing, and speaking and that he have some knowledge of philosophy.

For certain positions in the civil service graduate work is desirable. Those wishing to try for foreign service are urged to take one language all four years of college and a second language for two years.

Besides employing men with more general knowledge, government employs many with specialized knowledge; for instance, in the fields of law, education, medicine, engineering.

In view of the growing importance of government in the economic, social, and political life of the nation, both men and women will need to become better acquainted with it. College students especially are urged to prepare themselves to take a more active part in it as citizens, if not as elective or appointed officials.

HISTORY

Monmouth offers a program of study in the field of history and related subjects that prepares students for advanced work in the leading graduate schools of the country. In addition to careers within the historical professional this program is basic training for students looking forward to professional work in law, the ministry, government service, library administration, and teaching. For a typical history major program see the suggested outline of courses below. Students who plan to teach the social studies in the public schools would have to alter this program in order to include 16 hours of education. Students who plan to take graduate work in history or in library science would have to alter the program to include two languages in most cases. Other adjustments are possible to meet the individual objectives of the student.

HOME ECONOMICS

The courses in Home Economics are designed to furnish a basis for the important profession of homemaking and the various vocations related to it. Courses afford technical information, with laboratory practice, in Foods and Nutrition, and Textiles and Clothing. In addition, instruction is offered in Consumer Economics, Home Planning and Furnishing, and Home Management. The courses may be elected by non-majors, provided the necessary prerequisites are taken.

The course of study suggested below is for a major in general home economics. Adjustments may be made for the student who wishes to prepare for high school teaching (non-vocational), or for the student who wishes to prepare for dietetic training. Plans may be made for using home economics as a minor in biology or chemistry, and in other fields of concentration.

INTERPRETER AND CORRESPONDENT

The various departments of the government, and also business firms engaged in international trade, offer opportunities as interpreters or correspondents for those well trained in foreign languages. Monmouth offers four years of instruction in each of the following: French, German, and Spanish. The student who plans to be an interpreter or correspondent should acquire facility in English and should include in his curriculum courses in history, economics, and political science in order that he may be acquainted with the world of business and government.

JOURNALISM

A minimum of two years of college preparation is required by most schools of journalism before a student is permitted to begin his study of professional courses in the field of journalism. Some schools of journalism require three or more years of general college preparation before a student is admitted to professional courses. Monmouth College recommends, therefore, that a student preparing for journalism secure three or more years of pre-professional training. A statement by the late Frank Knox, former publisher of The Chicago Daily News, is significant. "My opinion, pretty well sustained by an experience of about forty years, is that the best training for newspaper work whether in the business office or editorial department, is an ordinary college course which gives a bachelor of arts degree. . . The broad, general culture which the bachelor of arts course gives is the best foundation upon which to build."

The following outline of courses is suggested:

LAW

The minimum pre-professional requirements for the legal profession are three years of liberal arts college training. In view of the advantage to the student of meeting something more than the minimum requirements for any profession, Monmouth College recommends that a student looking forward to law secure the baccalaureate degree after four years of general college training before entering upon his professional study in a law school. The pre-professional course of study is not prescribed by the American Bar Association, nor does any law school set up specific requirements. The Association of American Law Schools suggests that the principal aim of the college course should be to give the student a thorough mental training by means of fundamental subjects such as English, history, foreign language, the natural and social sciences. The Carnegie Foundation, in a report on pre-legal education found that among law schools the following major subjects were recommended most frequently in the order named: history, economics, English, political science, a foreign language, philosophy, a natural science, sociology, and mathematics.

The following pre-professional program is recommended with a field of concentration in economics, history, philosophy and psychology, or political science:

LIBRARIAN

Graduate Library Schools today offer a Master's degree upon completion of the year's work following college graduation. Basic requirements before entrance to any Library School are quite similar, namely: a broad general education and beyond that, a reasonable degree of undergraduate concentration in some specific field or "clusters of related fields." We quote the following from the catalog of our own Illinois State University Library School. "Because of the variety of opportunities in library service, the Library School will admit students with many kinds of undergraduate specialization. . . . The student's undergraduate course of study should include a basic introductory course in each of the following subjects: American government, economics, education, psychology, public administration and sociology. . . . A reading knowledge of one modern foreign language and at least two foreign languages if one expects to enter college or university library work or bibliographical work."

At present there is a great need for librarians who have had good undergraduate preparation in either the physical or biological sciences, or in social sciences.

Candidates for the position of teacher-librarian in school libraries should meet all teaching requirements for a certificate.

The following suggested curriculum is offered for the first two years:

MEDICINE

Students from Monmouth College are admitted to all the leading medical schools in the country. Although students are admitted occasionally at the end of their junior year, most schools of medicine advise completion of a four-year general college curriculum leading to a bachelor's degree before entering medical school. Medical entrance requirements vary so much that pre-medical students should study the catalogues of two or three medical schools in which they are interested. A program should be worked out at the beginning of the sophomore year, with the adviser familiar with medical school requirements, which will satisfy the entrance requirements of the selected schools.

THE MINISTRY

For the prospective minister's course the American Association of Theological Schools recommends a liberal arts program rather than a pre-professional program. "In the judgment of the Association the appropriate foundation for a minister's later professional studies lies in a broad and comprehensive college education, while the normal place for a minister's professional studies is the theological school."

NURSING PROGRAM

Increasing opportunities for nurses with the bachelor's degree to secure appointments as hospital supervisors, teachers in schools of nursing, public health nursing, school nursing, and directors of community nursing service have led to the development of a nursing program at Monmouth College. This program normally consists of 93 semester hours of collegiate work and 31 hours of credit for the professional program. For the collegiate program a minimum of 60 of the 93 hours must be completed on the Monmouth College campus with a grade point average of 2.5 or above and all graduation requirements must be fulfilled. (The last 30 hours of this program spent in residence at Monmouth College will be accepted in lieu of the senior residence requirement). Upon completion of the professional course and the granting of the R. N., the candidate must be recommended to the faculty of Monmouth College by the faculty of the school of nursing before the degree of bachelor of arts is conferred.

Monmouth College has an affiliated program which has been approved by the Illinois State Board of Nurse Examiners with Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago. To be eligible for the bachelor's degree from Monmouth College under this program the student must complete the college requirements before beginning the professional course. The length of the professional course is 31 months at Wesley Memorial Hospital. Completion of the professional course entitles students to take state licensing examinations for registered nurses.

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

Occupational therapy is a profession which has become prominent because of needs brought about by the war. Occupational therapists, under the direction of physicians, use various physical and mental activities to aid the patient in his recovery and adjustment to life. The course required for registry by the American Occupational Therapy Association includes basic cultural subjects, biological sciences, technical subjects and clinical practice. The first two years of this course may be taken at Monmouth.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION—HIGH SCHOOL TEACHING

The school laws now require an increased emphasis upon physical education in all grades of the public schools. The opportunities for young men and women prepared to be teachers and directors of physical education are greater than ever before. Monmouth College includes the Department of Physical Education as a department in which a student may major. The course suggested below prepares the student for a position as teacher or director of physical education in high school. By careful selection of elective subjects, the student may be prepared to teach not only physical education but also at least two other subjects.

SECRETARIAL TRAINING

A student who looks forward to a secretarial position may make preparation in two years. It is recommended, however, that whenever possible a student should plan to devote not less than four years to preparation for this vocation in order to acquire a larger acquaintance with the economic, social, and political organization of the 20th century. During the junior and senior years of such a program, a student should choose courses in accord with the program of study outlined under Business Administration.

Students preparing to teach commercial subjects in high school should give careful attention to the state teaching requirements of the state in which they expect to locate. The requirements of Illinois will be found in the program of study recommended for teaching.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

For students who are looking forward to graduate work in some field of social service the following undergraduate program of studies is recommended. The field of concentration should be chosen from a combination of the following subjects: economics, education, government, history, philosophy and psychology, and sociology.

The work of the first two years is outlined in detail. During the junior and senior years the student may take the courses listed and also a number of elective courses. Elective courses may be selected from above mentioned subjects and art, Bible, English, geography, home economics, physical education, music, and secretarial science.

SPEECH AND DRAMATICS

Monmouth offers a program of study in the field of speech and dramatics looking toward professional work in a number of fields including radio, the theatre, the teaching of speech and play production in high schools, speech pathology, and others. The program for the first two years of pre-professional training is worked out in detail and may be followed with minor changes depending upon the student's individual interests. During the junior and senior years the student chooses courses from among those listed, together with a number of electives, in order to secure adequate preparation for the field of his major interest. Students preparing to teach should give careful consideration to the teaching requirements of the state in which they expect to locate.

TEACHING

The liberal arts colleges of America are making an invaluable contribution to the progress of education by training teachers and administrators for all levels of the school system but particularly for the high schools and other secondary schools. Approximately seventy-five per cent of the high school teachers of the United States are graduates of the liberal arts colleges.

This outline of courses is intended merely to be illustrative. It is suggested for one who is preparing to teach mathematics and natural science in high school, with English, social science or a foreign language as a third teaching subject.

TECHNICIAN—LABORATORY OR HOSPITAL

The Registry of Medical Technologists has prescribed certain minimum pre-professional requirements for all who are preparing for this profession. The following program of study enables a student to meet these requirements in two years. It is recommended, however, that a student spend three and preferably four years in pre-professional study, thus securing a bachelor's degree before beginning his professional training. If the latter program is followed, the student's course of study during the first two years will be altered to include less of the scientific work in the freshman and sophomore years by deferring some of it until the junior and senior years. A student following a four-year program should choose biology or chemistry as his field of concentration. General mathematics, slide rule, chemical calculations and typing are highly recommended.

THE WASHINGTON SEMESTER PROGRAM

Since 1953 Monmouth College has been an active member of the Washington Semester Program, which is sponsored by the American University, Washington, D. C. The college has the privilege of sending three Junior students to participate in a special academic and cultural program in the nation's capital. The selected students register at Monmouth but do their work in Washington under the guidance of trained experts at the American University. Students who participate in the program have an opportunity to see the federal government in action, to do research in the great libraries in Washington, and to enjoy the cultural life of one of the world's important cities. To qualify as candidates for the program, students should have at least one course in American government and one in American history. They must also be able to do independent study and have a high academic standing. The program is administered in part by an intercollegiate committee of professors representing the various member colleges in the program.

LIFE ON THE CAMPUS

RELIGION ON THE CAMPUS

MONMOUTH COLLEGE by heritage and purpose is a Christian College, with the objective of providing education and developing personality around a core of Christian principles and ideals. Life on the campus is influenced by the close relationship of the College to the United Presbyterian Church of North America.

CHAPEL SERVICES

Regular Chapel services are held under the direction of the President and the Chapel Committee. Vesper services at which the President presides and preaches are held the first Sabbath afternoon of each month. Attendance at Chapel and Vespers is required of all students.

THE CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS

The Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. are active on the campus and contribute in many ways to the social and religious life of the college. The two groups plan and support the religious meetings, the "Religious Emphasis" period, and other religious activities. An important work of the Christian Associations is to welcome new students to the campus.

ICHTHUS CLUB

Ichthus Club is the organization of men and women who have enlisted their lives in one of the professions of Christian leadership. It offers devotional meetings, fellowship, and other organized activities to its members.

GOSPEL TEAMS

To give students an opportunity to express their Christian convictions, a Gospel Team program is maintained each year. This activity is not limited to Bible majors. Students from all departments interested in Christian service participate. The teams conduct a variety of church services, lead young people's meetings, visit the County Home, and provide leadership for many of the campus Christian meetings. Two cars, gifts of the late Dr. Samuel Fulton of West Allis, Wisconsin, provide transportation for the groups.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS PERIOD

A special period each year is devoted to an emphasis upon the spiritual needs of the students. Usually a guest minister spends several days on the campus conducting the Chapel service and counselling with students individually and in groups.

COLLEGE AND STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

This organization of the student body directs such student activities, and regulates such matters of student conduct as fall within its province. Its officers are president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer.

The Student Council, through which the organization functions, consists of the several class presidents, one representative from each class, student representatives of the Athletic Board, editor of the Oracle, president of the Forensic Board, and dormitory house president.

COLLEGE PAPER

The Oracle, a weekly paper, issued by the students, furnishes opportunity to cultivate a literary taste and spirit, and gain practice in news gathering, editing, proof reading, advertising and other features of newspaper work.

FRATERNAL ORGANIZATIONS

Eight sororities and fraternities have been authorized by the Senate of the College, and are functioning under faculty supervision. Four of these, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, Alpha Xi Delta, and Kappa Delta are for women, while the other four, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Alpha Tau Omega, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Theta Chi are men's organizations. All groups are affiliated with the national organizations of the same names.

Kappa Kappa Gamma and Pi Beta Phi, two outstanding national sororities, were founded on the Monmouth campus.

INDEPENDENT ORGANIZATIONS

There are two organizations for independent students on the campus. Both are affiliated with the National Independent Student Association.

HONORARY FRATERNITIES

SIGMA OMICRON MU is an organization whose purpose it is to promote scholarship and foster intellectual achievement. Only juniors and seniors who have consistently maintained high standards of scholarship are eligible for membership.

TAU PI, senior women's organization, gives recognition to outstanding women by choosing them to membership at the end of the junior year.

PI GAMMA PI is an honorary scholastic sorority organized to encourage high scholarship among women of the freshman class.

PHI ETA MU, an honorary freshman scholastic fraternity, was founded in 1931 to promote high scholarship among men of the freshman class.

OCTOPUS, senior men's honorary society, chooses eight outstanding men from the junior class each year, who are active members of the organization as seniors.

SIGMA TAU DELTA, national English fraternity whose Rho Alpha chapter was organized at Monmouth in 1926, holds monthly programs to encourage creative writing among its members. Original papers are presented followed by discussion and criticism.

PI KAPPA DELTA is an honorary national forensic society. Membership in the local chapter is limited to students who have represented the college for two years in intercollegiate oratorical or debate contests.

CRIMSON MASQUE is the dramatic club of Monmouth College. It was organized in 1925 and its purpose is "to acquire an appreciation of good drama, skill in acting and producing plays, and to develop poise and power through self-expression. Students are eligible at the beginning of the second semester of the freshman year and admitted to membership after extensive try-outs in acting and stagecraft. (See Department of Speech). Crimson Masque occupies the college Little Theatre and owns all theatrical equipment, fixtures and furnishings in the building. Under the supervision of the faculty director, the club presents several public and laboratory productions during each school year.

NATIONAL COLLEGIATE PLAYERS is a national honorary dramatic fraternity which represents the organized educational theatre in America. National Collegiate Players joins together "trained college men and women" who "will serve as an intelligent nucleus to better and to further the interests of dramatic activities in the United States." Students who belong to Crimson Masque are eligible for membership.

PHI ALPHA THETA, national honorary history fraternity whose Beta chapter was organized at Monmouth in 1948, limits membership to history students of high scholastic standing. The fraternity attempts to stimulate an intelligent interest and participation in historical research.

BETA BETA BETA is a national honorary biological fraternity whose Gamma Pi chapter was recognized on the campus in 1945. The purpose of the organization is to promote scholarship and introduce students to methods of biological research.

PI ALPHA NU, an organization of campus musicians, serves to promote closer friendship among musically-inclined individuals, and encourage higher standards of study, work and performance.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB consists of the students of the history and political science departments who are interested in the knowledge of the life, problems and aspirations of other people than our own. Monmouth is one of approximately forty colleges in the United States affiliated with the Institute of International Education of New York City and with the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

STUDENT AFFILIATES OF THE AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY, with membership limited to students who are majoring in chemistry, sponsors meetings, exhibits, and tours of industrial and research laboratories. The Monmouth chapter participates in the meetings of the Illinois-Iowa section of the A. C. S. at which they have the privilege of hearing chemists of national prominence discuss original research projects.

MUSIC ORGANIZATIONS

THE CHOIRS. The Vesper Choir appears at the monthly vesper service and at other important religious and academic gatherings. The College Chorale sings at the daily chapel services and gives programs both on the campus and in nearby communities. The Monmouth College Choir is a select group of singers chosen from the Vesper Choir. Both the College Choir and the College Chorale make an extended tour each spring.

THE ORATORIO SOCIETY, an extra-curricular group, presents annually Handel's Messiah and some other major choral work. Membership is open to all students.

THE BANDS. The two Monmouth College Bands are the Concert Band and the Service Band. The latter group plays for the athletic contests, Homecoming parades and similar events. Two full years of participation in this band are rewarded by an "M" sweater. The Concert Band is a repertoire organization. It aims to help the student become acquainted with a variety of music and to be trained in the art of directing. Plenty of opportunity for student directors to appear in public is guaranteed by weekly outdoor concerts given in the spring.

THE ORCHESTRA. The symphony orchestra gives at least two full concerts each year. The members of this group are privileged to participate in various ensemble groups at public concerts during the year. This greatly increases the opportunity and variety of performance as well as the individual responsibilities. Academic credit is granted for participation in these organizations.

INTERCOLLEGIATE FORENSICS

Monmouth College sponsors a program of intercollegiate forensics, both for men and women, with competition in the fields of debate, oratory, extempore speaking and discussion. Teams participate in several contests each year including the Pi Kappa Delta Province Tournament and the Pi Kappa Delta National Tournament. Orators from Monmouth compete each year in the Interstate Oratorical Contest. In addition to intercollegiate competition, members of forensic teams cooperate in sponsoring a Freshman Public Speaking contest, campus debates, and Speech Week.

ATHLETICS

Monmouth College is a member of the Midwest Collegiate Athletic Conference. Intercollegiate competition is carried on in football, basketball, track, swimming, golf, tennis, and baseball. In recent years intercollegiate competition in rifle for both men and women has been held in affiliation with the American Rifle Association.

Intramural competition is provided in basketball, handball, volleyball, badminton, softball, track, swimming, golf, and tennis. Teams are organized to represent various groups in the college; residence halls, fraternities and independent groups. Suitable awards are provided for each sport.

The Women's Athletic Association is affiliated with the National Athletic Conference of American College Women. Its purpose is to promote the physical education of Monmouth women by:

1. The formation of good health habits.
2. Promotion of interest in games and all forms of activity which make for increased physical efficiency.

HEALTH SERVICES

Monmouth College is vitally concerned with the prevention of sickness and the promotion of good health among its students. Medical facilities are provided so that every student's health and physical efficiency may be maintained at a high level. Cases of illness which arise receive prompt and adequate medical care.

Part of the first floor of Winbigler Hall for Women is equipped as an infirmary with accommodations for twelve women patients. Hospital facilities for men are provided at the city hospital.

Dispensary services are available for all students. Two physicians on the staff of the college provide full-time health service. A registered nurse is in residence on the dispensary floor so that twenty-four hour medical service is available to meet emergencies.

A program of Hospital Insurance with specified hospital and surgical benefits is provided without additional charge for all students carrying 12 or more hours of college work. Details of this plan are available in the Admissions Office and the Business Office.

COLLEGE REGULATIONS

GOVERNMENT

THE COLLEGE expects its students to conduct themselves as responsible members of a Christian community. Those who persistently refuse to conform to the spirit and regulations of the institution will not be permitted to remain in college.

The College opposes drinking, gambling, and hazing in all forms. The use or possession of alcoholic beverages on or off the campus is not permitted by the College.

RELIGIOUS MEETINGS

All students, unless excused by the Faculty Committee on Absences, are required to attend daily Chapel service, and the monthly Vesper service held on the first Sabbath afternoon of each month in the College auditorium. It is expected that students will attend public worship in some church on the Sabbath.

REGULATIONS

Rules governing registration, attendance, conduct and probation will be published in a handbook to be distributed at the beginning of the school year.

GRADES

All students in a class are ranked according to their work. Each teacher determines the rank of his own students in his own way. The following grades are used:

- A, excellent, earns four grade points per semester hour.
- B, good, earns three grade points per semester hour.
- C, fair, earns two grade points per semester hour.
- D, poor, earns one grade point per semester hour.
- E, conditioned.
- I, incomplete.
- F, failure.
- W, withdrawn.

CLASSIFICATION

The student who has thirty-one hours of college credit and who has a grade point average of 1.6 is classified as a sophomore; sixty-two hours of credit and an average of 1.8 as a junior; ninety-three hours of credit and an average of 2.0 as a senior.

HONORS

The honors at graduation are either summa cum laude, magna cum laude, or cum laude. The student is ranked upon his own merit, not upon his comparative standing. To be eligible for honors at graduation, a student must have been in residence at least four semesters. To be eligible for the honor summa cum laude, the work taken in residence must average 3.9 grade points per hour. To be eligible for honors magna cum laude, the work taken in residence must average 3.75 grade points per hour. To be eligible for honors cum laude, the work taken in residence must average 3.5 grade points per hour.

RECORDS AND REPORTS

A permanent record of all credits obtained by each student is kept by the registrar. These credits are kept on the basis of a full semester, no entry being made for less. No credits are placed in the records except as they are officially reported by the teacher under whom the work is done.

Reports are sent to parents or guardians as soon after the close of the semester as possible.

ATHLETIC FIELD

The athletic field and gymnasium are under the supervision of the Board of Athletic Control.

There shall be no match games played on the field during recitation hours without the consent of the faculty. There shall be no subletting of the field or gymnasium to any outside association, club or individuals for the purpose of playing games, sharing gate receipts, or for any other purpose whatsoever except as authorized by the Board of Athletic Control and by the President of the College.

ABSENCES

Attendance is required at the last meeting of a class before and at the first meeting of a class after a college vacation. Students who have urgent reasons for absences immediately before or after vacations may be excused by the dean. A student who is absent from a class on one of these days, unless excused, will be dropped from that class and may be readmitted only by permission of the dean and payment of a fee of $3.00 for each class to which he is readmitted.

EXPENSES

TUITION AND FEES

TUITION AND FEES, excluding fees itemized below, per semester....$283.00

This includes instruction and laboratory fees for a complete program of from 12 to 17 semester hours inclusive (but excluding fees indicated below and minor incidental fees required in special courses), student health service including insurance coverage for the full year, admission to all regular athletic games, artist-lecture course numbers, Student Union dues, one-half of the cost of the Ravelings (year book), a semester's subscription to the Oracle (college paper), admission to plays in the College Theatre, support of forensics and the Student Council. Laboratory breakage is billed at the close of each semester.

A special student, working toward a degree but carrying less than 12 semester hours of work, who desires the benefits of the student health service, participation in student activities and the privileges of the Student Union, will be charged at the rate of $25.00 per semester hour.

A special student carrying only one course, who is not a candidate for a degree and who does not desire the foregoing student privileges, will be charged at the rate of $16.50 per semester hour.

When, by special permission, a student carries more than 17 semester hours, the additional charge will be at the rate of $16.50 for each semester hour above 17.

Unscheduled courses carried by special arrangement with the instructor will be charged for at the rate of $12.50 per semester hour in addition to the regular charges for the courses.

If a regular or special student registers for an evening course in which the instructor is compensated on the basis of enrollment in the course, the student will be required to pay the regular fee for the evening course in addition to any other fees or charges he has paid.

A student carrying a normal program of college work may audit in one additional course without extra charge.

No refund will be made for courses dropped after the second Saturday of the semester.

MISCELLANEOUS FEES

Matriculation fee	$10.00
Graduation fee, including cap and gown rental	15.00
Student Teaching fee, Education 401	10.00
Late Registration fee	3.00
Change of Registration after second Saturday of the semester	5.00

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC FEES

Courses in the Department of Music may be included under the general college tuition upon the same basis as other college courses, except that additional charges are made for private lessons in applied music as shown below.

The rate for credit instruction applies only to those registered as full-time students who wish to include credit in applied music as part of their program. In this case the general tuition charge covers a portion of the music fee.

TUITION FOR APPLIED MUSIC

Voice, Piano, Organ, Violin, and Orchestral Instruments, per semester:

One private half hour lesson per week, non-credit.....	$40.00
One private half hour lesson per week, credit.....	$23.50

Two private half hour lessons per week, credit.....	$37.00
Class Lessons	$12.00

SPECIAL RATES FOR HIGH SCHOOL AND GRADE:

One private half hour lesson per week	$28.00
Family rate	$50.00

Piano rental per semester. One hour daily, $5.00; two hours daily, $8.00; three hours daily, $10.00.

Organ rental per semester. Three hours per week, $15.00; four hours per week, $20.00; Six hours per week, $25.00; or 35 cents an hour.

SPECIAL EXAMINATIONS

Students absent from a regular final examination or from an announced test will be charged a fee for a special examination unless the reason for the absence is illness, illness in the family, or absence as a representative of the college. The fee for a final examination is $5.00, for an announced test $2.50. A statement from the Business Office showing that the fee has been paid must be presented before the examination will be given.

TRANSCRIPTS

Each student who has taken work in Monmouth College is entitled to two transcripts, showing the record of his work, without charge. For additional transcripts a fee of $1.00 each will be charged. No transcript will be issued until the student's college account has been paid.

DORMITORIES

RATES FOR ROOMS AND MEALS

Meals, per semester$190.00*

No Sunday evening suppers are served in the dining room.

Room Rent, per semester$98.50-$110.50*

* Subject to change if necessitated by rising prices.

ROOM RESERVATIONS

New students' applications for rooms should be made as early as possible. Freshman rooms are assigned in the order in which room reservations are received. Students in attendance, who plan to return the following year, are given a choice of rooms until May 1st. After this date, rooms will be assigned by the deans and counselors.

ROOM DEPOSITS

New students' room applications must be accompanied by a room deposit of $10.00 (women), $20.00 (men). This amount remains on deposit as a breakage or damage fee.

If, because of extraordinary circumstances, a student must cancel a room reservation, refund of the deposit will be made until July 1st. After July 1st, no refund can be made. (Latest refund date for new students entering college at mid-year is January 1st.)

PAYMENTS

New students are required to pay $50.00, to apply on college expense of the first year, upon receipt of notification of admission. If a student is unable to enter college because of illness or accident, this payment will be refunded if the college is notified prior to July 1st (January 1st for new students entering at mid-year.)

Returning students are required to pay $25.00, to apply on college expenses of the following year, not later than May 1st. Refund privileges for returning students are the same as for new students.

All other payments for tuition, fees, room and meals are due at the beginning of each semester. For the convenience of the student, one of the following payment plans may be adopted:

(a) Tuition and fees for the semester payable at registration in September and February, room and meals payable in four equal installments throughout the semester.

(b) All tuition, fees, room and meals payable in four equal installments throughout the semester.

Any deviation from this schedule of payments must be approved by the Business Manager's office.

If a student desires to pay in advance the full amount of room, meals and tuition for the academic year, a discount of 5% will be allowed. A student paying in advance the full amount of room, meals and tuition for a semester will be allowed a discount of 4%. Discounts are not allowed to students who hold assistantships, or who receive scholarships or grants-in-aid, or who are assigned work.

A charge of 5% will be made on all past-due balances. A student who does not maintain his deferred payments as scheduled may be asked to withdraw from classes. A student whose account is not paid in full 10 days before the end of the semester is not eligible to take the final examination in his course.

ESTIMATED ANNUAL EXPENSES

Men and Women

Tuition and Fees	$ 566.00
Meals in college dining room	380.00
Room in college residence hall	205.00*
	<hr/>
	$1,151.00

* Room rates vary slightly depending on room assigned.

In addition, a student should expect to spend from $30.00 to $50.00 per year for necessary books and supplies. Incidental expenses, laundry and entertainment costs will depend upon the habits of the individual student.

The student who must be partially self-supporting while attending college will find the following types of financial aid available:

STUDENT AID

PART-TIME EMPLOYMENT

Every effort will be made to assist the student in securing employment on the campus or in the community. Campus employment opportunities include waitress work, secretarial work, dormitory desk duty, kitchen work for men, library work, janitor work.

Applications should be filed with the Business Office as early as possible.

STUDENT LOAN FUND

A revolving fund is available to upper-class students who find it necessary to borrow money in order to complete their college courses.

Applications should be filed with the Business Manager's office.

HENRY STRONG EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

The Henry Strong Educational Foundation allots a certain amount of money each year for loans to upper-class students. Repayments are due after graduation: 10% the first year, 20% the second year, 30% the third year and 40% the fourth year. Interest at 3 per cent accrues after graduation. All repayments are credited to Monmouth College for use in making additional loans. No loans can be made to students over twenty-five years of age.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES

STUDENT AWARDS

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE is granted to students by means of scholarships, grants-in-aid, and educational and ministerial courtesies. The value of these awards varies in amount according to the financial need of the student and the funds available. No student may receive help under more than one of these classifications.

I. Scholarships:

1. Scholarships granted to freshmen coming from the upper one-fourth of their high school classes whose character and general record promise achievement in college work, and who could not attend college without financial aid.
2. Scholarships granted to upper-class students who, in the preceding semester, maintained a grade point average of not less than 3.00 and whose character and record give promise of achievement. Financial need must be demonstrated.

If the recipient of one of these awards registers for less than 12 semester hours of college work, the amount of the award will be reduced by 10% for each hour of such reduction.

- II. Grants-in-Aid. These awards are made to students of promise who do not qualify scholastically for scholarships but who could not attend college without financial aid. New students applying for such awards must rank in the upper one-half of their high school classes. No grants-in-aid are awarded to upper-class students who have not made a grade of at least 2.0 in the preceding semester.

- III. Educational and ministerial courtesies. Children of ministers and educators, whose academic records are satisfactory to the Scholarship Committee, may receive, in lieu of other financial aid, the courtesy of a one-third reduction in the charge for tuition and fees.

Scholarships and grants-in-aid are awarded with the understanding that the student receiving the award has sufficient free time to study consistently. Failure to maintain the necessary scholastic average will result in cancellation of the award. The awards vary in amount from $50.00 to $250.00 depending upon individual circumstances. One-half of the award is credited to the student's tuition account each semester. No student may hold a scholarship or grant-in-aid for more than eight semesters. All awards are made by the general scholarship committee or by special committees when so required by the donor of a scholarship fund.

- A student who does not complete his undergraduate work at Monmouth will be required to repay any funds received from scholarships, grants-in-aid or educational courtesies, unless he transfers to another degree-granting institution to pursue a course of study not available at Monmouth, or is forced to drop out of college for reasons beyond his control.

Student Assistantships, another means of providing financial aid, are available in limited numbers to upper class students of high scholastic standing, who are recommended by department heads.

Students holding awards must re-apply before May 15th each year in order to obtain financial aid for the following academic year.

Students receiving financial aid from the college, except those whose homes are in Monmouth, are required to live in college housing.

303. PHYSIOLOGY. A study of the anatomy and physiology of the human body. The course covers the skeletal, muscular and nervous system. Prerequisites: Biology 104, and an elementary knowledge of chemistry or special consent. First semester. Three hours.

304. PHYSIOLOGY. A continuation of Biology 303. This course covers the circulatory, respiratory, digestive and urogenital systems. Prerequisites: See Biology 303. Second semester. Three hours.

305. COMPARATIVE VERTEBRATE ANATOMY. A detailed study of the comparative anatomy of vertebrates. Dogfish, Necturus, and cat are used as types in the laboratory. Prerequisites: Biology 306, or special consent. To be offered 1956-57 and alternate years. Second semester. Four hours.

306. EMBRYOLOGY. A study of the embryological development of vertebrates with emphasis upon human embryology. Prerequisites: Biology 104. To be offered 1956-57 and alternate years. First semester. Four hours.

307. PARASITOLOGY. A study of the animal parasites belonging to the protozoan, helminth and arthropod groups with particular emphasis on parasites of man. Prerequisite: Biology 104. To be offered 1955-56 and alternate years. First semester. Three hours.

401a, 401b, 401c, 401d. RESEARCH. Offered by special arrangement. One to four hours.

403. SEMINAR. Reading assignments designed to give a historical background in biology as well as some understanding of present-day and future fields of research. Emphasis is placed on the scientific method and a research project of an original nature is required of all students. Open to senior biology majors and others with 20 semester hours of biology. First semester. Two hours.

404. SEMINAR. Continuation of Biology 403. Prerequisite: Biology 403. Second semester. Two hours.

434. TEACHING OF SCIENCE. See Education 434.

CHEMISTRY

GARRETT W. THIESSEN, Professor, Chairman

S. J. VELLENGA, Professor

BEN T. SHAWVER, Associate Professor

The field of concentration in Chemistry consists of:

- (a) A departmental unit of at least 24 hours including courses 201 and 301.
- (b) Related courses totaling at least 16 hours in one or two of the following departments: biology, mathematics, physics, German, education, home economics.

Monmouth's chemistry department is accredited by the American Chemical Society. Students majoring in chemistry will be certified by the department chairman as having fulfilled the minimum requirements adopted by the American Chemical Society for the professional baccalaureate training of chemists and/or recommended to the graduate schools when their transcripts include Chemistry 202, 302, 406, either 403 or 404, and 407, Physics 202, Mathematics 202, and a practical reading knowledge of German. Chemistry 206, 402, 408, and at least a year of French are also desirable. German or French in high school will partly satisfy the language requirement.

For the student preparing for training in medicine, pharmacy, dentistry, veterinary medicine, or medical technology, it is recommended that biology and physics be included.

103. APPLIED CHEMISTRY. A course in the elementary aspects of general and organic chemistry with specific reference to home economics, nursing, occupational and physical therapy. Open to all students. First semester. Three classes and one laboratory meeting per week. Four hours.

104. APPLIED CHEMISTRY. Continuation of 103. Will admit to 301, but no other chemistry courses. Second semester. Four hours.

105. GENERAL CHEMISTRY. This course is a study of the fundamental principles of chemistry including equation writing, weight and gas volume relationships in chemical reactions, structure and properties of gases, liquids, and solids, determination of molecular and atomic weights, the Periodic System, properties of solutions, ionization, subatomic structure, radioactivity, and chemical bonds. Students who intend to take subsequent courses in chemistry other than 201 and 301 are required to enter this course. Three classes and two laboratory meetings per week. First semester. Five hours.

106. INORGANIC CHEMISTRY AND QUALITATIVE ANALYSIS. The work of this course is centered about the principles of chemical equilibrium, the chemistry of representative elements and their detection by semi-micro methods, and the metallurgy of common elements. Prerequisites: Chemistry 105, Mathematics 101 or 103, or instructor's consent. Three classes and two laboratory meetings per week. Second semester. Five hours.

201. QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS. A course covering the fundamental theory and practice of gravimetric and volumetric analysis. Class periods are devoted to lectures, problems and quizzes. Laboratory time is devoted to training in accurate quantitative analysis of representative materials. Prerequisite: Chemistry 106, or instructor's consent. Two classes and two laboratory meetings per week. First semester. Four hours.

202. QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS. A continuation of Chemistry 201, offering work with special and instrumental methods of analysis. Prerequisites: Chemistry 201. Two classes and two laboratory meetings per week. Second semester. Four hours.

204. SLIDE RULE. An intensive study of the theory and practical use of the slide rule. A standard slide rule constitutes necessary individual equipment. Prerequisite: Mathematics through plane trigonometry or instructor's consent. One class meeting per week; no laboratory. Second semester. One hour.

206. CHEMICAL CALCULATIONS. A standard slide rule constitutes necessary individual equipment. Prerequisites or corequisites: Chemistry 103, 105, 204. One class meeting per week; no laboratory. Second semester. One hour.

301. ORGANIC CHEMISTRY. An abridged study of compounds with low molecular weights in both the aliphatic and aromatic series, and a few functional groups of the commonest sorts. Intended as a sufficient premedical, pre dental, or pretechnician course; and an introduction to Chemistry 302 for students preparing for careers in chemistry. The laboratory work is the preparation of and tests upon some of the compounds studied in the course. Prerequisites: Chemistry 104 or Chemistry 106. Three classes and two laboratory meetings per week. First semester. Five hours.

302. ORGANIC CHEMISTRY. A study of more complicated compounds, theories and reactions than those treated in the earlier course. Includes electron theory; stereoisomerism especially of sugars; structure proofs, etc. The laboratory work will be mainly preparative, with some organic analysis. Prerequisites: Chemistry 106, 301 and German 101. Schedule as for 301. Second semester. Five hours.

304. ORGANIC PROBLEMS. To provide an additional hour of credit beyond 301 for premedics and others needing that amount. Recitations and reports on problems from a standard problems text. Pre- or corequisites: Chemistry 104 or 106, and 301. One class per week, no laboratory. First semester. One hour. By special arrangement only.

401. BIO-PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY. A survey of physical chemistry with special emphasis on principles of biological and medical import. This course is recommended for all premedic students. It is not acceptable for certification according to minimum standards of the American Chemical Society. Prerequisites: Chemistry 106, 201, 301, or special consent of instructor; Mathematics 102 or 104; Physics 102 or 202. Three classes and one laboratory meeting per week. First semester. Four hours.

402. PHYSIOLOGICAL CHEMISTRY. A study of carbohydrates, fats, proteins, digestion, absorption and metabolism with their concomitant products of blood, tissues and energy. Prerequisite: Chemistry 301. Three classes and one laboratory meeting per week. Second semester. Four hours.

403. ADVANCED INORGANIC CHEMISTRY. Special topics in inorganic chemistry. Prerequisite: Senior major standing. Three lecture meetings per week. Three hours.

404. ORGANIC QUALITATIVE ANALYSIS. A course for the identification of organic compounds as unknowns, pure and in mixtures. Prerequisite: Chemistry 301. Two lectures and two laboratory meetings per week. Second semester. Four hours.

405. PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY. A course dealing with topics on gases, liquids, and solids; analytically useful optical properties; thermo-chemistry and thermodynamics; solutions and equilibrium. Required for American Chemical Society certification. Prerequisites: Chemistry 201, 206 or equivalent skill, and 301; Mathematics 202; Physics 102 or preferably 202. Three classes and one laboratory meeting per week. First semester. Four hours.

406. PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY. A continuation of Chemistry 405. A study of chemical thermodynamics, equilibrium, kinetics, electrochemistry, and radioactivity. Required for American Chemical Society certification. Three classes and one laboratory meeting per week. Second semester. Four hours.

407. SEMINAR. Practice in abstracting chemical literature. Prerequisite: Senior major standing; reading knowledge of German. Two hours.

408. RESEARCH. Prerequisite: Chemistry 407. Arranged. Two hours.

CLASSICAL LANGUAGES

HAROLD J. RALSTON, Professor, Chairman

BERNICE FOX, Associate Professor

LATIN

The field of concentration in Latin consists of:

- (a) A departmental unit of at least 24 hours in addition to Latin 101 and 102.
- (b) Related courses totaling at least 16 hours, chosen with the approval of the adviser.

101. ELEMENTS OF LATIN GRAMMAR. For those not entering with high school Latin credits who desire a knowledge of Latin. First semester. M. T. W. Th. F. Five hours.

102. SELECTED READINGS AND GRAMMAR. Continuation of 101. Second semester. M. T. W. Th. F. Five hours.

203. CICERO, SELECTED ORATIONS Prerequisite: Two years of high school Latin or Latin 101 and 102. First semester. Three hours.

204. VIRGIL'S AENEID. Prerequisite: Latin 203. Second semester. Three hours.

301. CICERO, DE SENECTUTE AND DE AMICITIA. Review of forms and syntax. Roman literature. Prerequisite: Three years of high school Latin or 101-204. Three hours. Given on sufficient demand.

302. LIVY AND PLINY, SELECTIONS. Roman political development. Continuation of 301. Three hours. Given on sufficient demand.

304. SATIRE IN ROMAN LITERATURE. Emphasis on Horace's Satires, with some study of Juvenal and Martial. Three hours. Given on sufficient demand.

305. TACITUS AND SUETONIUS. Three hours. Given on sufficient demand.
306. ROMAN DRAMA. Studies in Plautus and Terence. Three hours. Given on sufficient demand.
307. OVID AND CATULLUS. Three hours. Given on sufficient demand.
435. TEACHERS' COURSE IN HIGH SCHOOL LATIN. For advanced students who desire recommendation as Latin teachers. First semester. Two hours.

GREEK

The field of concentration in Greek includes the following:

- (a) A departmental unit of at least 24 hours including credit for either Classics 321, Greek Civilization, or Classics 322, Greek Literature.
 - (b) Related courses totaling at least 16 hours, chosen from one or two related fields with the approval of the adviser.
- 101, 102. ELEMENTARY GREEK. Grammar, Xenophon's Anabasis or other reading. Both semesters, M. T. Th. F. Four hours.
202. PLATO, APOLOGY AND CRITO. Prerequisite: Greek 101-102. Second semester. Three hours.
307. NEW TESTAMENT. Forms, syntax, reading. Prerequisite: Greek 101-102. First semester. Three hours.
308. NEW TESTAMENT. Textual and word studies, more difficult reading. Second semester. Three hours.
- 301, 302. READING AND THESIS COURSE. For advanced students by special arrangement.
311. GREEK PROSE. Later Greek prose, as the Septuagint, Apocrypha, the non-literary papyri. First semester. Three hours.
312. GREEK PROSE. Continuation of Greek 311. Second semester. Three hours.

CLASSICAL CIVILIZATION

Given in English. No foreign language prerequisite.

221. CLASSICAL MYTHOLOGY. A survey of the myths most commonly alluded to in English and other literatures, and in art, music, and life. First semester. Two hours.
321. GREEK CIVILIZATION. Introduction to Greek life and thought. First semester. Two hours.
322. GREEK LITERATURE. The study in English translation of the greatest works of Greek literature with some attention to their backgrounds and authors. No prerequisites. Required of Greek majors. Two hours.
324. WORD ELEMENTS. Especially to aid in mastering technical derivatives from Greek and Latin stems. Second semester. Three hours.

ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

JAMES BECK, Associate Professor, Chairman

ALICE WALKER, Associate Professor

RUTH MITCHELL, Assistant Professor

The field of concentration in economics and business administration consists of:

- (a) At least 24 hours including Economics 201-202, 282, and at least 10 hours of courses in Economics and Business Administration numbered 300 or above.
- (b) Related courses, totaling at least 16 hours, chosen from one or two departments approved by adviser.

Students looking forward to business careers should take, in addition to Economics 201, 202 and 282, Economics 212, 363, 364, 371, 372, 374.

Students expecting to do graduate work in business administration should take in addition to Economics 201 and 202, two years of work in accounting, two semesters of business law, two years of French or German, and Economics 211, 212, 352, 371, 372, 374.

201. PRINCIPLES OF ECONOMICS. A general course dealing with the institutions and forces which affect production, distribution, and consumption of wealth. In the latter half of the course attention is given to present economic problems such as: money, international trade, transportation, taxation, and labor. Not open to freshmen. First semester. Three hours.

202. PRINCIPLES OF ECONOMICS. Prerequisites: Economics 201 or special consent. Second semester. Three hours.

211. MATHEMATICS OF FINANCE. For a description of this course see Mathematics 211.

212. INTRODUCTION TO STATISTICS. Elementary principles in the analysis of data, with applications. Three hours.

281. PRINCIPLES OF ACCOUNTING. An introduction to the fundamentals of accounting as applied to the construction of orderly systematic records of business dealings; methods of analyzing receipts and expenditures, of constructing balance sheets, profit and loss statements and working papers, and of determining assets and liabilities. Emphasis is placed upon the individual proprietorship. May not be used to satisfy Division II requirements. First semester. Laboratory T. Four hours.

282. PRINCIPLES OF ACCOUNTING. Extensive problem work and analysis of accounting records employed in partnership and corporation accounting. Prerequisite: Economics 281. Second semester. Laboratory T. Four hours.

301. HISTORY OF ECONOMIC THOUGHT. A study of the development of major economic thought and doctrines. Emphasis will be given Mercantilists, Physiocrats, Classical School, Adam Smith, John S. Mill, Alfred Marshall, J. B. Clark, Thorstein Veblen, J. A. Hobson, J. Keynes, and others. Prerequisite: Economics 202 with grade of B or higher. Two hours.

303. ECONOMIC THEORY. Nature and purpose of economic theory. Relation of facts, theory, and policy. A detailed study of pricing, resource allocation, and distribution.

304. INTERNATIONAL TRADE. The theory of international trade, foreign exchange, and balance of payments. An analysis of trade restrictive devices tariffs, quotas, exchange control, clearing agreements, etc. Consideration of cooperation through International Monetary Fund and the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development. Prerequisites: Economics 202. Second semester. Three hours.

352. LABOR PROBLEMS. A study of the problems arising out of industrial relations of the worker. A detailed analysis is made of the trade union movement and its method of effecting adjustments between capital and labor; standards of living, wages, immigration, unemployment, methods of personnel management, and social security legislation. Prerequisite: Economics 202. Second semester. Three hours.

363. BUSINESS LAW. An introductory course presenting briefly the historical development of the common law, a survey of federal and state courts, and their jurisdiction, torts, contracts, agency, bailments, common carriers, and sales of personal property. The course is designed to aid the student in understanding the rights and obligations growing out of contractual relations as interpreted by the courts. Prerequisite: Economics 201 or junior standing. First semester. Three hours.

364. BUSINESS LAW. An extended analysis of the principles of law applicable to negotiable instruments, partnership and corporations, real property, deeds, mortgages, wills, and insurance. Prerequisite: Economics 363. Second semester. Three hours.

371. MONEY AND BANKING. A study of fundamental principles of monetary theory and of the history and theory of banking. The course includes a discussion of current problems and recent legislation. Prerequisite: Economics 202. Economics 281 is advised. First semester. Three hours.

372. BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION. A study of the basic factors of business administration; the financial organization of business; production and distribution of utilities; the functions of the personnel and other departments. A seminar course requiring the student to develop his own philosophy of management. Prerequisite: Economics 202. Economics 281 is advised. Second semester. Three hours.

374. INVESTMENT AND FINANCE. An analysis of the various types of investment securities from the viewpoint of the investor, with attention to methods of corporation finance. Some training is afforded in reading the financial page, investment technique, planning an investment program, and forecasting. Investment cases and problems will be analyzed. Prerequisite: Economics 202, 282. Second semester. Three hours.

375. PUBLIC FINANCE. A study of the theories and methods of taxation; the collection and disbursement of funds by federal, state and local governments. Prerequisite: Economics 202. First semester. Three hours.

376. FISCAL POLICY. A background of economic theory followed by an analysis of the role of government in achieving full employment and economic growth. Includes a critical evaluation of government revenues, expenditures, and debt management. Prerequisite: Economics 202. Three hours.

391. ADVANCED ACCOUNTING PROBLEMS. General principles of valuation; factory costs; the voucher system; problems of depreciation; valuation of current assets and liabilities; the balance sheet and profit and loss summary; branch house accounting. A seminar course with extensive problem and research work. Prerequisite: Economics 282 with grade of B or higher. First semester. One laboratory period each week. Four hours.

392. ADVANCED ACCOUNTING PROBLEMS. Additional problems in fixed asset evaluation, investments, goodwill and other intangibles, fixed liabilities, funds and reserve, estate accounting, consolidated statements, and interpretation of financial statements. Prerequisite: Economics 391. Second semester. One laboratory period each week. Four hours.

SECRETARIAL SCIENCE

101. ELEMENTARY TYPEWRITING. Instruction directed toward mastery of the keyboard and the technique of touch typewriting. Development of skill in the manipulation of the principal operative parts of the typewriter. Introduction to business letter writing. Four hours of laboratory work and two hours of class instruction per week. Two hours. Credit does not count towards graduation.

102. INTERMEDIATE TYPEWRITING. Problems and practice in letter and manuscript writing; direct dictation, tabulating, typing from rough draft, mimeographing. Prerequisite: Secretarial Science 101 or equivalent. Second semester. Four hours of laboratory work and two hours of class instruction per week. Two hours.

103. ELEMENTARY SHORTHAND THEORY. A beginning study of Gregg shorthand through the use of organized and connected shorthand materials for reading and writing practice. Attainment of the knowledge and skills necessary to correct shorthand writing, with emphasis on the three thousand to five thousand most commonly used words. Prerequisite: Secretarial Science 101 or equivalent. First semester. Credit does not count toward graduation.

104. APPLIED SHORTHAND THEORY. Application of shorthand theory to the building of an adequate business vocabulary. Development of correct and rapid shorthand writing and reading habits. Instruction in the technique and practice of making typewritten transcriptions from shorthand. Prerequisite: Secretarial Science 103. Second semester. Three hours.

211. BUSINESS ENGLISH. A detailed consideration of and practice in the writing of all types of business letters—credit, adjustment, collection, application, recommendation, inquiry, and sales. Emphasis is placed on mechanical make-up and physical layout of letters as well as on the composition of the letter body—including persuasive power, diplomacy, and the adaption of the letter. Sophomore standing or above. Three hours.

301. ADVANCED DICTATION. Rapid dictation and transcription of business letters, general and legal materials, and articles from current literature. Emphasis on commercially satisfactory quality and quantity of stenographic productivity. Prerequisite: Minimum rate of 80 words per minute. First semester. Three hours.

302. SECRETARIAL TRAINING AND OFFICE MANAGEMENT. Development of executive ability and resourcefulness through problems selected from modern business. Business ethics. Definite training in secretarial duties, responsibilities, and procedures. Designed to give the secretary or junior executive an understanding of office work from the point of view of management. Prerequisite: Secretarial Science 301. Second semester. Three hours.

410. TEACHING OF COMMERCIAL SUBJECTS. Major emphasis on shorthand, typewriting and bookkeeping. A critical analysis of objectives, organization of materials, tests, standards of achievements, and methods of approach in teaching these subjects. Prerequisite: Secretarial Science 104 and Economics 282. First semester. Two hours.

EDUCATION

FRANK W. PHILLIPS, Professor, Chairman

ALBERT NICHOLAS, Professor

KAYTE L. DAVENPORT, Instructor

The Field of concentration consists of:

- A-1. In the elementary field a departmental unit of at least 24 hours including Education 201, Ed. 232, Ed. 331, Ed. 305A, 305B and Ed. 306A, 306B, and Ed. 401.
2. Subject matter courses which meet the certification requirements of the State of Illinois.
- B-1. In the secondary field a departmental unit of at least 24 hours including Education 201, Ed. 232, Ed. 332, Ed. 311, Ed. 314, either Ed. 307, Ed. 335, or Ed. 313, and Ed. 401.
2. A major of 32 hours in one subject matter field, and a minor of 16 hours or three minors of 16 hours each, two of which must be in related fields. Those preparing to teach in the secondary schools are advised to major in a subject matter field rather than in Education.

201. PRINCIPLES OF EDUCATION. An introductory course designed to orient the student as to aims of education and the techniques of learning and teaching. Primarily for sophomores, not open to juniors and seniors. Each semester. Three hours.

220. LEADERSHIP. See Physical Education 220.

232. EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY. A study of individual differences, conditions of effective mental work, the laws of learning with special reference to their bearing upon effective learning and teaching. Prerequisite: Education 201 or Psychology 221. Each semester. Three hours.

305A. ELEMENTARY EDUCATION. A study of the elementary school, its history, purpose, organization and place in the American system of education. Prerequisite: Education 201 and 232. First semester. Juniors and Seniors. Two hours.

305B. THE TEACHING OF READING IN THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL. First semester. Two hours.

306A. THE TEACHING OF ARITHMETIC IN THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL. Second semester. Two hours.

306B. THE TEACHING OF ELEMENTARY SCHOOL ART. Second semester. Two hours.

307. EDUCATIONAL ADMINISTRATION. The local school system; the duties of superintendent, principal, and teachers; the curriculum and the supervision of instruction; federal and state support of education; the local unit and its relation to the state. Prerequisites: Education 201 or 335 and junior standing. Second semester. Three hours.

309. PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION. See Philosophy 309.

311. SECONDARY EDUCATION. A study of the major problems of high school teaching and classroom administration. For juniors and seniors. Prerequisite: Education 232. Each semester. Three hours.

313. HISTORY OF EDUCATION. A study of the development of educational thought and educational institutions. For juniors and seniors. First semester. Three hours.

314. PRINCIPLES OF TEACHING IN HIGH SCHOOL. A study of the principles and methods of teaching in secondary schools. Primarily for seniors. Prerequisites: Education 332 and 311 or 313. Each semester. Three hours.

331. CHILD PSYCHOLOGY. A study of child psychology with special reference to the growth and development of the school child. Prerequisite: Education 232. First semester. Two hours.

332. ADOLESCENT PSYCHOLOGY. A study of psychology with special reference to the problems arising during the junior high school and senior high school years. Prerequisite: Psychology 221, or 232. Second semester. Two hours.

333. MENTAL HYGIENE. A consideration of the mental hygiene of the student with emphasis upon the opportunity of home and school in promoting mental health. Prerequisite: Education 232. Second semester. Two hours.

335. MEASUREMENT AND GUIDANCE. The study of guidance techniques, including the administration and interpretation of tests, and the statistical treatment of test scores. For juniors and seniors. Second semester. Three hours.

401. STUDENT TEACHING. This course provides opportunity for the prospective teacher to observe, and to participate in, the instructional and administrative activities of a public school class room. Conferences with the school principal, the class room teacher and the director of student teaching supplement these experiences. Each semester. Five hours credit.

Regulations governing appointment to student teaching:

1. Appointment is limited to members of the senior class.
 2. Applicants must have been in residence for at least one semester, have completed eight hours in required education courses with a grade point average of 2.5, have a grade point average of 2.5 in the field of concentration, and have the recommendation of the college department corresponding to the subject in which teaching is to be done.
 3. Teaching assignments will be in the field of concentration but may be in either the major or related fields.
 4. Prerequisites:

A. For elementary school teaching:	B. For high school teaching:
Education 201 or 232.	Education 201.
Education 331.	Education 311.*
Education 305, A and B.*	Education 332.
Education 306, A and B.*	Education 314.*
- * (may be taken concurrently).

The State of Illinois now requires that all candidates for certification must pass an examination on The Constitution of the United States and of the State of Illinois.

The following courses in special methods may be taken in cooperating departments:

410. THE TEACHING OF COMMERCIAL SUBJECTS. (See Secretarial Science 410).

430. THE TEACHING OF ENGLISH. (See English 430).

432. THE TEACHING OF MATHEMATICS. (See Mathematics 432).

433. THE TEACHING OF FRENCH. (See French 433).

434. THE TEACHING OF SCIENCE IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS. A course offered by the Science Departments of the College, covering the objectives, materials, methods and techniques involved in the teaching of science. Prerequisites: fourteen hours of science and junior class standing. Second semester. Two hours.

435. THE TEACHING OF LATIN. (See Latin 435).

437, 438. THE TEACHING OF INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC. (See Music 437 and 438).

439, 440. THE TEACHING OF MUSIC. (See Music 439, 440).

442. THE TEACHING OF SPEECH. (See Speech 442).

452. METHODS OF TEACHING SOCIAL STUDIES. (See History 452).

454. METHODS OF TEACHING PHYSICAL EDUCATION. (See Physical Education 454).

CERTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

Copies of the provisions of the Illinois Certifying Law are available for distribution in the office of the Department of Education. The provisions of the certifying laws of all states are on file and available for examination.

ENGLISH

ALLEN C. MORRILL, Professor, Chairman

EVA HANNA CLELAND, Associate Professor

BERNICE FOX, Associate Professor

ADELE KENNEDY, Associate Professor

DAVID D. FLEMING, Instructor

ANN MANOR, Instructor

The suggested field of concentration in English consists of:

- (a) A departmental unit of at least 24 hours in literature above the freshman requirement, including 201, 202, 314, 204, 311 or Classics 221.

- (b) Related courses totaling at least sixteen hours, to be chosen from one or two departments with the approval of the English adviser.

NOTE: Upper College course prerequisites: Qualified students may apply for instructor's approval to waive usual prerequisites.

100. A course in basic fundamentals of writing for students deficient in their language background. Students unable to meet the standards of English 101 will be required by the Department to take this course before credit will be given for English 102. Two meetings a week. One hour credit.

101, 102. FRESHMAN ENGLISH. During the freshman year, the student reviews the elements of English grammar, studies the mechanics of English composition, and practices the art of writing. Weekly themes are required. Attention is given to the improvement of the student's vocabulary and to facility in self-expression and self-correction. The course also provides an introduction to various types of literature, including the essay, the short story, the drama, the novel, poetry, and biography. 101 is prerequisite to 102. Both semesters. Three hours. Note: All freshmen must take both these courses.

102a. An honors freshman course for students whose performance in English 101 has been outstanding. More ambitious units of writing than those of English 102 and frequent conferences with the instructor. A course aimed to develop student initiative and achievement. Prerequisite: English 101 and the recommendation of the Department. Three hours.

201. SURVEY OF BRITISH LITERATURE. British prose and poetry from their beginnings to 1800. Prerequisites: 101 and 102. First semester. Three hours.

202. SURVEY OF BRITISH LITERATURE. Prose and poetry of Britain from 1800 to the present. Prerequisites: Freshman English and English 201. Second semester. Three hours.

204. SURVEY OF AMERICAN LITERATURE. The growth of American literature exclusive of the drama; a study of the principal tendencies with emphasis on major figures. Prerequisites: Sophomore standing. Each semester. Three hours.

207, 208. JOURNALISM. During the first semester, students are introduced to the elements of theory and practice of newspaper writing. Readings in the metropolitan dailies are required and discussed. The writing and criticism of news stories are stressed. During the second semester, the work of the first semester is continued and extended by practice work in news features, interviews, feature writing, and editorial comment. Prerequisite: First semester, English 101, 102. Prerequisite: Second semester, English 207. Three hours each semester.

210. GRAMMAR. A course designed for those who feel the need of a more thorough study of basic grammar than is offered in English 101 and 102. No prerequisite. Two hours recitation, one hour credit.

211. BUSINESS ENGLISH. See Secretarial Science 211.

300. REPORT WRITING. A course in practical writing, designed for those students who wish advanced training in the preparation of factual reports. Stress is placed on organization of material and clear, effective style of presentation. First semester. Two hours.

301. MODERN BRITISH PROSE. A study of the leading British writers and movements of the last thirty years. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. First semester. Two hours. Offered in 1955-1956.

302. MODERN AMERICAN PROSE. A study of the leading American writers and movements of the last thirty years. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. Second semester. Two hours. Offered in 1955-1956.

303. MODERN POETRY, BRITISH AND AMERICAN. A study of twentieth century British and American poetry. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. First semester. Three hours.

306. CREATIVE WRITING. This course is a workshop of self-expression and evaluation in poetry, the essay, and the short story. The permission of the instructor is required for admission. This course may be repeated for credit. Second semester. Two hours.

307. THE NOVEL. A study of the English novel from its beginning to 1860. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. First semester. Two hours.

308. THE NOVEL. Continuation of the above from 1860 to the present time. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. Second semester. Two hours.

309. SURVEY OF THE EUROPEAN DRAMA. A study of the drama as a type of literature and a critical reading of Continental plays from Aeschylus to Ibsen. Emphasis on the literary qualities and social significance of the plays. Prerequisites: Upperclass standing. First semester. Two hours. Offered in 1955-1956.

310. SURVEY OF THE MODERN DRAMA. A continuation of 309, but may be taken separately. A study of modern dramatists: Continental, British, and American. Prerequisite: Upperclass standing. Second semester. Two hours. Offered in 1955-1956.

311. GREAT BOOKS AND WRITERS. A course in comparative literature, including translated masterpieces from Egypt, Greece, Rome, Persia, and India, both prose and poetry. Prerequisite: Upperclass standing. First semester. Two hours.

312. GREAT BOOKS AND WRITERS. A continuation of 311, but may be taken separately. Extensive library readings and class discussions of the best literary productions of Europe and the Near East from 1800-1900. Prerequisite: Upperclass standing. Second semester. Two hours.

313. THE ENGLISH ROMANTIC MOVEMENT. A study of British poetry in the first half of the Nineteenth Century. Prerequisite: Upperclass standing. First semester. Three hours.

314. SHAKESPEARE. A study of the plays and sonnets, emphasizing interpretation and appreciation. Prerequisite: Upperclass standing. Second semester. Three hours.

315. MILTON. A survey of Milton's work with emphasis on the major poems. Prerequisite: Upperclass standing. First semester. Three hours. Offered in 1955-1956.

316. VICTORIAN POETRY. A study of British poetry in the second half of the Nineteenth Century with emphasis on Browning and Tennyson. Prerequisite: Upperclass standing. Three hours.

318. VICTORIAN PROSE. A study of the ideas of this era of change and progress as expressed in essays and fiction. Readings include such authors as Mill, Carlyle, Arnold, Ruskin, Dickens, and Thackeray. Prerequisite: Upperclass standing. Three hours.

319. AMERICAN SHORT STORY. From the time of Poe to the present. The course is designed to meet the widespread interest in the short story and to give standards for criticism through a knowledge of the techniques of skilled writers. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. Two hours.

320. EUROPEAN SHORT STORY. The emphasis is on British stories, but some French, Russian, Italian and Scandinavian stories are included. Study is made of the national characteristics as well as the varied techniques. Prerequisite: English 319, or special consent. Two hours.

321. SEVENTEENTH CENTURY LITERATURE. A study of Seventeenth Century British prose and poetry from the days of Donne and Jonson through the Restoration period. Prerequisite: Upperclass standing. First semester. Three hours. Offered in 1955-1956.

322. EIGHTEENTH CENTURY LITERATURE. A study of Eighteenth Century British prose and poetry from Pope to Burns, The Age of Reason is analyzed and the beginnings of journalism, the novel, and romantic tendencies are studied. Prerequisites: Upperclass standing. Three hours. Second semester. Offered in 1955-1956.

323-324. THE ESSAY. The great essays and essayists from Montaigne to Stevenson are studied with supplementary readings from living authors. Although the chief emphasis is on the "informal essay", other types are also considered. Prerequisite: English 101, 102. Both semesters. Two hours each semester. Offered in 1955-1956.

351. ENGLISH DRAMA TO 1642. A survey of the development of English drama from early medieval times to the end of its greatest period. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. First semester. Two hours. Offered in 1955-1956.

352. INTRODUCTION TO CRITICISM. A study of literary standards, especially as they may be applied to British and American letters. Prerequisite: Upperclass standing. Second semester. Three hours.

401 CHAUCER. His language and writings, especially The Canterbury Tales. Prerequisite: Upperclass standing. Second semester. Three hours.

403. ENGLISH PHILOLOGY. The history of the origin, structure, and chief modifications of the English language. Open only to upperclassmen with major or minor requirements in any language. First semester. Three hours. Offered in 1955-1956.

404. STUDIES IN AMERICAN CIVILIZATION 1870-1950. An integrated historical, social, and cultural interpretation of life, thought, and institutions in the United States, 1870-1950. Social problems and reports. Conducted on seminar plan. Prerequisite: One or more of English 318, 352, History 351, Sociology 301, Philosophy 307. First semester. Three hours.

412. ENGLISH SEMINAR. Problems in English and American literature. Students will either contribute reports based on a general problem or direct their research to supplement their background in English or American literature. Open to junior or senior English majors. Either English 404 or 412 required of all English majors. Second semester. Two hours.

430. THE TEACHING OF ENGLISH. A critical study and evaluation of methods of teaching English in junior and senior high school. Especially for upperclassmen who have majored in English or a related field. Second semester. Two hours.

GEOLOGY AND GEOGRAPHY

DONALD L. WILLS, Assistant Professor

The field of concentration in geology consists of:

- (a) A minimum of 24 hours of geology courses including Geology 101, 102, 201, 202, 300, 310, and 420.
- (b) Sixteen hours of courses in two related departments. It is suggested these courses be taken in Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics or Physics.

There is no major offered in the field of geography; however, students interested in taking Geography 101, 102, 310 use these courses as partial fulfillment of Division III's requirements for graduation.

GEOLOGY

101. PHYSICAL GEOLOGY. A study of the earth forms, materials, processes and agencies controlling the physiographic features of the earth. Three lecture and one three-hour laboratory period each week. Field trips to surrounding areas of geologic interest. Offered first semester each year. Four hours. Open to all students.

102. HISTORICAL GEOLOGY. A study of the physical, biological and economic history of the rocks of the earth's crust, with emphasis upon North America. Three lectures and one three-hour laboratory period each week. Field trips to surrounding areas of geologic interest. Second semester. Prerequisite: Geology 101. Four hours.

201. MINERALOGY. Crystallography, descriptive and determinative mineralogy. Lecture and laboratory. First semester. Three hours. Prerequisite: Geology 101 and 102.

202. MINERALOGY. Continuation of Geology 201 with the introduction of Optical Mineralogy and Petrology. Lecture and laboratory. Second semester. Three hours. Prerequisite: Geology 201.

300. INVERTEBRATE PALEONTOLOGY. A study of the structure, evolution and geologic distribution of fossil invertebrates. Lecture and laboratory. First semester. Four hours. Prerequisite: Geology 101 and 102; Zoology 103, or consent of instructor.

310. STRATIGRAPHY AND SEDIMENTATION. A laboratory study of well logs and cuttings, subsurface maps and cross sections used in the development of economic ore deposits. Megascopic and microscopic examination of sediments and rocks to determine lithology of various formations. Lecture and laboratory. Second semester. Four hours. Prerequisite: Geology 101, 102, 201, 202, and 300, or consent of instructor.

320. CARTOGRAPHY. Fundamental drafting techniques used in the compilation and construction of maps, charts, graphs, etc. Open to all students. Offered every other year. Two hours.

400. STRUCTURAL GEOLOGY. A study of primary and secondary rock structures and their genesis. Lecture and field work. Second semester. Four hours. Prerequisites: Same as for Geology 310 plus beginning Mathematics and Physics, or consent of instructor.

410. APPLIED GEOLOGY. A survey of the practical aspects in geology with regard to practices used in the exploration of oil and other economic important mineral deposits. Open only to majors in geology. Students will be required to prepare papers on subjects of their own interest. Lecture and laboratory. Three hours. Prerequisite: Junior or senior standing in geology. Offered second semester, 1953.

419-420. RESEARCH. Problems in physical geology, stratigraphy, field geology, structural geology, mineralogy and economic geology. Individual problems for seniors in geology. 419 offered first semester; 420 second semester. Three hours.

430. GEOLOGY SEMINAR. A survey of current developments in geology, Preparation and oral presentation of papers concerning these current events in geology. Open only to seniors in geology. Offered second semester, 1954. Three hours.

GEOGRAPHY

101. ELEMENTS OF PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY. A study of the physical features of the earth and the setting they provide for man. Open to all students. First semester. Three hours. Lecture only.

102. HUMAN GEOGRAPHY. A study of man in his natural environment. Prerequisite: Geography 101, Second semester. Three hours.

300. ECONOMIC GEOGRAPHY. A survey of the world's mineral and agricultural resources, manufacturing industries and trade. Open to all students. Two hours.

310. POLITICAL GEOGRAPHY. An exploitation of various philosophies of governments in relation to geographic phenomena. Open to all students. Two hours.

320. CARTOGRAPHY. Fundamental drafting techniques used in the compilation and construction of maps, charts, graphs, etc. Open to all students. Offered every other year. Two hours. (See Geology 320).

GOVERNMENT

CARL W. GAMER, Professor, Chairman

The field of concentration in government consists of:

- (a) A minimum of 24 hours including History 101 and 102 and Government 201 and 202.
- (b) A minimum of 16 hours of courses in one or two related departments, chosen after consultation with the adviser.

201. AMERICAN GOVERNMENT, NATIONAL. A study of the federal government and its constitutional development. Prerequisites: sophomore standing. First semester. Three hours.

202. AMERICAN GOVERNMENT, STATE AND LOCAL. A study of the political institutions of the forty-eight states and their subdivisions. Prerequisite: sophomore standing. Second semester. Three hours.

300. CURRENT EVENTS. A study of major developments in contemporary history in the light of their historical background. Two hours. (This course may be taken for History credit.)

311. POLITICS, PARTIES, AND PRESSURE GROUPS. A study of the problems and conduct of elections and primaries in the United States. Special studies are made of current political campaigns. Prerequisite: History 101, 102, or Government 201, 202, or History 251, 252. Two hours.

330. MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT. City government and administration is studied in more detail than is possible in the elementary government course. Each student is assigned some special report in his field of interest. Prerequisite: Government 202, or History 101-102. Two hours.

360. PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION. A study of the structure, organization, and function of public administrative establishments. The course is intended especially for those interested in the public service as a career, but is of value as a preparation for intelligent citizenship. Prerequisite: junior standing, or the consent of the instructor. Three hours.

375. PUBLIC FINANCE. (For description see Economics 375.) Three hours.

380. TWENTIETH CENTURY WORLD POLITICS. A study of fundamentals underlying international relations; nationalism, economic forces, power politics, etc. Prerequisite: History 101 and 102 or consent of instructor. Three hours.

381. FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS. A study of the governments of England, France, Germany, Russia; also, briefer treatment of others like the governments of Switzerland, Sweden, Japan, China, Brazil. Prerequisite: History 101-102, or Government 201-202, or History 341.

390. INTERNATIONAL LAW. A consideration of the public international law from texts and cases. Both law of war and law of peace are considered. Prerequisite: History 101-102, or Government 201, or History 335, 336. Three hours.

395. CONSTITUTIONAL LAW OF THE UNITED STATES. A study of the constitutional law of the United States from the decisions of the Supreme Court. This course is designed to serve as a background for understanding American institutions. Prerequisite: Government 201-202, or History 251-252. Three hours.

401A or 401B. SEMINAR IN POLITICAL PROBLEMS. This is to acquaint the student with various sources of information, both public documents and others, and by means of individual and/or group projects to teach him how to find facts and seek answers to some concrete problems in the field of politics or government. Prerequisite: Government 201 and 202 and Junior standing or consent of the instructor. 401A one hour. 401B two hours.

HISTORY

F. GARVIN DAVENPORT, Professor, Chairman

MARY BARTLING CROW, Assistant Professor

The field of concentration in history consists of:

- (a) A minimum of 24 hours of history courses, including History 101 and 102, History 251 and 252, and either History 401, 402, or 404.
- (b) 16 hours of courses in one or two related departments chosen after consultation with the adviser.

101. WORLD CIVILIZATION. A survey of human progress from the late Medieval Age to the nineteenth century. The Renaissance and Reformation; the Commercial Revolution; Rise of National States, and the French Revolution. First semester. Three hours.

102. WORLD CIVILIZATION. A continuation of History 101. Rise of the great commercial empires; development of the democratic doctrine; intellectual and industrial revolutions; imperialism and two world wars. The emphasis is placed on European civilization but considerable attention is given to India, China and Japan. Second semester. Three hours.

(NOTE: History 101 and 102 in sequence form the introductory course in the department, which must be taken, preferably in the freshman year, by all History or Government majors. It may be counted either for History or Government credit.)

251. AMERICAN HISTORY, 1492-1850. A general introduction to American history emphasizing the founding of the colonies, the Revolution, and problems of nationalism and expansion to 1850. First semester. Three hours.

252. AMERICAN HISTORY, 1850-1914. A continuation of History 251. Emphasis on the Civil War and Reconstruction, rise of big business, labor and agrarian movements, and the United States as a world power under Theodore Roosevelt. Second semester. Three hours.

(NOTE: History 251 and 252 in sequence form a unit which must be taken by History majors, preferably in the sophomore year.)

300. CURRENT EVENTS. (For description see Government 300). Each semester. Two hours.

322. MEDIEVAL HISTORY. Origins of European civilization in barbarian conquests, and rise of European peoples to the level of the Renaissance. Prerequisite: History 101. First semester. Two hours.

334. NINETEENTH CENTURY EUROPE. A study of the industrial revolution, the growth of democracy, nationalism and imperialism from 1815 to 1914. First semester. Three hours.

335. TWENTIETH CENTURY. An investigation of world history since 1914 with the object of gaining a better understanding of contemporary problems. Open to juniors and seniors. Second semester. Three hours.

341. HISTORY OF GREAT BRITAIN. English political and social development from the fifteenth to the eighteenth century. First semester. Three hours.

342. HISTORY OF GREAT BRITAIN. Growth of the British Empire and the development of the modern parliament. Political and social reform. England in the two world wars. Second semester. Three hours.

344. MODERN RUSSIA. Primarily a study of the causes and results of the Russian revolutions of 1905 and 1917 including an analysis of the Soviet regime. Prerequisite: a course in modern Europe or upper class standing. Second semester. Two hours.

351. HISTORY OF AMERICAN CULTURE. A study of American intellectual and cultural growth from the colonial period to the twentieth century. The course is selective and interpretative. Emphasis is placed on the development of religion, science and art in relation to the democratic ideal. Prerequisite: History 251-252. or consent of instructor. First semester. Three hours.

352. AMERICAN DIPLOMATIC HISTORY. A survey of our national effort to find America's proper place in a constantly changing world. Prerequisite: History 251-252. Second semester. Three hours. (Not offered in 1955-56.)

353. TWENTIETH CENTURY AMERICA. A study of the political, social and economic life of the United States from Theodore Roosevelt and the Progressive Movement to Franklin Roosevelt and the New Deal. Second semester. Three hours.

384. HISTORY OF THE SOUTH. A study in regional History. A social and economic history of the South with the emphasis on the period 1800-1880. The cotton and tobacco kingdoms, slavery and the Civil War. Prerequisite: History 251-252 or consent of instructor. Second semester. Three hours. Alternates with History 386.

386. HISTORY OF THE WEST. A study in regional history. The various stages of the frontier; forest culture, the prairie culture, and the plains culture. The cattle kingdom and the mineral frontier. The West as a social, economic and political force in the nation's history. Prerequisite: History 251-252 or consent of instructor. Second semester. Three hours. Alternates with History 384.

401. HISTORY SEMINAR. Bibliography, historiography and individual research problems in European history. Either History 401, 402 or 404 is required of History majors. Usually offered first semester but may be repeated second semester. Two hours.

402. HISTORY SEMINAR. Bibliography, historiography and individual research problems in American history. Usually offered second semester, but may be offered first semester to meet demand. Two hours.

404. STUDIES IN AMERICAN CIVILIZATION. (See also English 404 and Sociology 404.) An integrated historical, social and cultural interpretation of life, thought, and institutions in the United States since 1870. Conducted on the seminar plan. Prerequisites: either English 318, English 352, History 351, Sociology 301, or Philosophy 307. First semester. Three hours.

452. TEACHING OF THE SOCIAL STUDIES. Principles, techniques, and materials involved in the teaching of the social studies at the elementary and secondary level. Offered to meet demand. Two hours.

HOME ECONOMICS

LUELLA A. WILLIAMS, Associate Professor, Chairman

MARTHA M. HAMILTON, Instructor

The field of concentration in Home Economics consists of:

1. A departmental unit of at least 24 hours.
2. Related courses totaling at least 16 hours, from one or two of the following departments: chemistry, biology, sociology, art, psychology, and drama.

101. FOODS, SELECTION AND PREPARATION. A general orientation to education for home and family life, with emphasis on planning and preparing meals for the family. Includes a study of food products with reference to production, selection, nutritive value, and cost. Laboratory work in preparation of food on the meal basis. Prerequisite or parallel: Home Economics 203, Elementary Nutrition. 1 hour lecture and 4 hours laboratory per week. Three hours.

102. TEXTILES AND CLOTHING. Includes a study of the nature of common household textiles, and the testing of recently discovered fabrics. Emphasis will be placed on the selection and use of textiles in the home. Laboratory work provides for the use of commercial patterns and the application of both hand and machine sewing to the making of specified garments. One hour lecture and four hours laboratory per week. Prerequisite or parallel: Art 211. Three hours.

201. MEAL PLANNING AND TABLE SERVICE. Includes food marketing, planning and serving family meals, and family entertaining. Prerequisite: Home Economics 101 and Home Economics 203. One hour lecture and four hours laboratory per week. Three hours.

202. ADVANCED CLOTHING. Emphasis on consumer economics in relation to personal and family wardrobes. Laboratory work includes the more difficult problems encountered in clothing construction. Six hours laboratory per week. Prerequisite: Home Economics 102 and Art 211. Three hours.

203. ELEMENTARY NUTRITION. The essentials of an adequate diet based on food requirements. The nutritive value of common foods. Two class hours per week. Open to all students. Required in the field of concentration for Home Economics majors. Should parallel Home Economics 101, Food Selection and Preparation. Two hours.

301. ADVANCED NUTRITION. Food requirements of different ages and activities. The chemistry of food and nutrition with emphasis upon digestion and metabolism. Prerequisite: Home Economics 203, one year of chemistry, and junior standing. Required in the field of concentration for Home Economics majors. Three hours.

302. ECONOMICS OF THE HOUSEHOLD. Includes financial and managerial problems of the modern home: investigation of family income, standards of living, budgets and records, housing, etc. Three class hours per week. A non-laboratory course, involving field trips of various sorts. Prerequisite: junior standing. Required in the field of concentration. Second semester. Three hours.

304. CONSUMER ECONOMICS. A study of the problems, needs and practices of the consumer in relation to homemaking problems—in the fields of foods, clothing, textiles, and household equipment. Also a consideration of the part played by advertising, retail stores and government agencies in relation to the same problems. Consumer organization and other aids to the consumer. Prerequisites: junior standing and Economics 101-102 or 201-202.

310. TAILORING AND DRAFTING. Application of tailoring techniques; flat pattern drafting, and construction of original designs. Prerequisite: Clothing 102 and 202. First semester. Four hours laboratory per week. Two hours.

306. THE FAMILY. See Sociology 306.

316. HOME PLANNING AND FURNISHING. See Art 316.

MATHEMATICS

HUGH R. BEVERIDGE, Professor, Chairman

PAUL CRAMER, Associate Professor

with the assistance of

PROFESSOR LYLE FINLEY, of the Department of Physics

PROFESSOR SIMON VELLENGA, of the Department of Chemistry

The field of concentration in mathematics consists of:

- (a) A departmental unit of at least 24 hours including 202 and two courses numbered above 300.
- (b) Related courses totaling at least 16 hours, selected from one or two of the following departments: biology, chemistry, geology, physics, economics, philosophy.

106. SOLID GEOMETRY. Two hours.

111. COLLEGE ALGEBRA. Quadratic equations, simultaneous equations, progressions, theory of equations, etc. Prerequisite: 1 year algebra, 1 year plane geometry. Three hours.

112. TRIGONOMETRY. Trigonometric functions, logarithms, identities, and solution of triangles. Prerequisite: 1 year algebra, 1 year plane geometry. Three hours.

151, 152. ANALYTIC GEOMETRY AND CALCULUS. Fundamental ideas of functions, the straight line, the conics and an introduction to the concepts of calculus. Three hours each semester. Prerequisite: $1\frac{1}{2}$ years algebra, 1 year plane geometry, $\frac{1}{2}$ year trigonometry.

201, 202. DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS. A first course in the calculus. Prerequisite: 102 or 104. Four hours each semester.

211. MATHEMATICS OF FINANCE. Interest, discount, annuities, amortization, sinking funds, bonds, depreciation, elements of actuarial science. Prerequisite: 102, or 104. Three hours.

251, 252. CALCULUS. Further study of the techniques of differentiation and integration with applications in the fields of physics and engineering.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 152. Three hours each semester. (Not offered 1955-1956).

301, 302. ADVANCED CALCULUS. Series, partial differentiation, definite integrals, multiple integrals, fourier series. Prerequisite: 202. Three hours each semester.

303, 304. DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS. An introduction to ordinary and partial differential equations and their application. Prerequisite: 301. Three hours each semester.

311. THEORY OF EQUATIONS. Complex numbers, equations related to ruler and compass constructions, determinants, and other topics related to the solution of equations. Prerequisite: 201. Three hours.

312. INTRODUCTION TO HIGHER ALGEBRA. Matrices, bilinear and quadratic forms, linear transformations, invariants, elementary divisors. Prerequisite: 311. Three hours.

321, 322. INTRODUCTION TO HIGHER GEOMETRY. Linear dependence, projective geometry. Prerequisite: 202. Three hours each semester.

432. THE TEACHING OF MATHEMATICS. Prerequisite: 202. Two hours.

ASTRONOMY

202. DESCRIPTIVE ASTRONOMY. A course dealing with the fundamental facts and principles. Prerequisite: Mathematics 102 or 104. Three hours.

ENGINEERING

101. GRAPHICS I. A study of engineering drafting practice including use of instruments, practice in lettering, orthographic projection, technical sketching, dimensioning and conventional methods of sectioning and representing machine and structural elements. Prerequisite: Plane geometry. Three hours.

102. GRAPHICS II. A study of pictorial drawing including practice in isometric, oblique, and perspective drawing. About two-thirds of the semester is given over to descriptive geometry including graphical solutions of theoretical and practical problems involving geometrical elements such as points, lines, planes, surfaces and solids. Prerequisite: Solid geometry and Engineering 101. Three hours.

203. SURVEYING. Plane and topographic surveying. Prerequisite: Mathematics 102 or 104. Three hours.

204. APPLIED MECHANICS. Force systems; equilibrium; centroids; center of gravity; friction; introduction to dynamics. Prerequisites: Mathematics 201, Physics 201; registration in Mathematics 202. Three hours.

MODERN LANGUAGES AND LITERATURE

DOROTHY DONALD, Professor, Chairman

RUTH E. GARWOOD, Associate Professor

MARIE-LUISE WOLFSKEHL, Assistant Professor

The inter-dependence of the peoples of the world emphasizes today the need for practical knowledge of foreign language and for better understanding of foreign background and culture. The courses in this department, which includes French, German, and Spanish, aim to convert these languages into serviceable means of communication. Through proficiency in the use of a foreign language, students are enabled to gain first-hand acquaintance with the life and culture of a country other than their own, thereby acquiring a degree of international understanding.

CORRELATION OF HIGH SCHOOL AND COLLEGE FOREIGN LANGUAGE STUDY

One year of foreign language in high school is considered the equivalent of one semester in college. However, a student who wishes to continue in college the foreign language which he has studied one year in high school may elect the regular two semester elementary courses, 101 and 102, with full college credit.

Two years of foreign language in high school are considered the equivalent of one year in college. All students who wish to continue in college the foreign language which they have studied two years or more in high school must take a placement examination. On the basis of this examination one of the following courses will be recommended: advanced course, intermediate course, or elementary course. If the last named is elected, college credit must not exceed four hours.

FRENCH

The field of concentration in French consists of:

- (a) A departmental unit of at least 24 hours in addition to courses, 101 and 102.
- (b) Related courses, totaling at least 16 hours, chosen from one or two of the following departments: art, classics, German, Spanish, history, English, philosophy.

101, 102. ELEMENTARY. A comparatively brief introduction to the basic facts of grammar followed by extensive reading of graduated difficulty. Much practice in oral composition of the question-answer type. Both semesters. Four hours.

201, 202. INTERMEDIATE. Extensive reading for the purpose of acquiring vocabulary; a review of grammar, with written and oral composition. Both semesters. Three hours.

203, 204. CONVERSATION AND COMPOSITION. Emphasis on oral facility and practice. Elementary composition. Use of records and French language periodicals. Two hours

301, 302. LITERATURE OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY. This course deals with the main literary French movements of the nineteenth century including romanticism, realism, naturalism, and symbolism. Both semesters. Two or three hours.

303, 304. LITERATURE OF THE SEVENTEENTH AND EIGHTEENTH CENTURIES. Study of the outstanding works of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, with emphasis on the classical French drama and the "philosophes" and the "encyclopedistes." Both semesters. Two or three hours. (Not offered in 1955-1956.)

309, 310. READING IN THE FIELD OF CONCENTRATION. Both semesters. One or two hours. Of special interest to those who wish to make an immediate practical use of their French.

311, 312. READINGS IN CONTEMPORARY LITERATURE. Both semesters. One or two hours.

319. MEDITERRANEAN CULTURE OF THE SIXTEENTH AND SEVENTEENTH CENTURIES. Aesthetic aspects of the Mediterranean world as reflected in literature, architecture, painting, and sculpture. Correlation of historical background. Readings from French, Italian, and Spanish literature in the original or translation. One hour lecture, one hour discussion, and one hour individual conferences. Collaboration of the departments of art and foreign languages. Three hours. Open to juniors and seniors or the consent of instructor. First semester.

401, 402. SURVEY OF FRENCH LITERATURE. Rapid reading of selections from the more important and entertaining authors. An "aperçu" of the history of French literature. Both semesters. Two hours. (Not offered 1955-56.)

433. TEACHING OF FRENCH. Readings, observations, discussions, conferences. Some practice teaching. Two hours. Offered only upon request of those with satisfactory preparation in the language.

GERMAN

The purpose of instruction is two-fold: (a) to familiarize the student with the structure, form and idiomatic use of the language; (b) to introduce the student to German literature with its rich background.

The field of concentration in German consists of:

- (a) A departmental unit of at least 24 hours in addition to courses 101, 102.
- (b) Related courses totaling at least 16 hours, chosen from one or two of the following departments: art, classics, English, French, history, philosophy, and Spanish.

Students are advised to present at least one course above 101, 102 in some other foreign language.

101, 102. ELEMENTARY GERMAN. An introduction to the German language, with special emphasis on oral and aural practice. Both semesters. Four hours.

201, 202. INTERMEDIATE GERMAN. Reading chosen from the works of modern authors. Grammatical review and composition. German conversation at intermediate stage. Prerequisite: German 101-102 or its equivalent. Both semesters. Three hours.

201S, 202S. INTERMEDIATE GERMAN. (Scientific). Reading of scientific texts and modern German literature. Grammatical review and composition. German conversation at intermediate stage. Prerequisite: German 101-102 or its equivalent. Three hours.

301, 302. INTRODUCTION TO THE STUDY OF GERMAN LITERATURE. Prerequisite: German 201-202 or its equivalent. Both semesters. Two hours.

301S, 302S. SCIENTIFIC GERMAN. Reading of advanced scientific material. Collateral reading related to field of concentration. Study of one literary text of non-scientific nature. Prerequisite: German 201S-202S or its equivalent. Both semesters. Two hours.

321, 322. READING IN THE FIELD OF CONCENTRATION. For advanced students able to read fluently in their field of special interest. Both semesters. One or two hours. (Courses indicated by "a" and "b" respectively).

SPANISH

The field of concentration in Spanish consists of:

- (a) A departmental unit of at least 24 hours beyond 101 and 102. Emphasis may be upon the literature of Spain or of South America. Students selecting the former must be well acquainted with the literature of both the modern field and the Golden Age of Spain, and must be familiar with the main literary movements of Spanish America (Courses 305, and, or 306, 311, 312, and 401 are designed to meet those needs.) Students selecting the field of Spanish-American literature for emphasis must be well acquainted with civilization, history and literature of Spanish-America and be familiar with the main literary movements of Spain. (Courses 307, 308, and 401 are designed to meet these needs.)
- (b) Related courses totaling at least 16 hours, chosen from one or two of the following departments: art, classics, economics, English, French, German and history.
- (c) By arrangement with Mexico City College, Mexico, D. F., students of Monmouth College may study the fall or summer quarter in Mexico. One exchange scholarship is available each year.

Students are advised to present at least one course above 101 and 102 in some other foreign language.

101, 102. ELEMENTARY COURSE. Essentials of grammar, diction, oral and aural practice, reading, simple composition, drill in pronunciation. Both semesters. Four hours.

203, 204. INTERMEDIATE COURSE. Intensive class reading of modern literature, review of grammar, practice in conversation and composition. Outside reading. Stress laid on gaining proficiency in reading and speaking. Both semesters. Three hours.

205, 206. CONVERSATION AND COMPOSITION. Emphasis on oral facility and accuracy. Review of grammar. Use of Spanish language periodicals and records. Two hours.

305, 306. MODERN SPANISH LITERATURE. First semester study of outstanding novelists of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries with special emphasis on the regional novel. Second semester study of most important dramatists of these centuries. Extensive collateral reading. Three hours.

307, 308. SPANISH-AMERICAN LITERATURE. Effort is made to interpret the various Spanish-American countries, their people, their history, and their institutions through their literature read in the original. Three hours. (Not offered 1955-1956).

309. ADVANCED COMPOSITION AND CONVERSATION. Required for those whose field of concentration is Spanish. In addition to composition, the elements of phonetics and the rudiments of Spanish commercial correspondence will be studied. One semester. Two hours.

310. READINGS. For advanced students able to read fluently in their field of special interest. One or two hours (courses indicated by "a" and "b" respectively).

311, 312. LITERATURE OF THE GOLDEN AGE. First semester, study of the Golden Age Drama. Second semester, a study of the life and work of Cervantes and their relation to the culture of the sixteenth century, with special emphasis on Don Quijote. Two hours. (Not offered 1955-1956.)

319. MEDITERRANEAN CULTURE OF THE SIXTEENTH AND SEVENTEENTH CENTURIES. Aesthetic aspects of the Mediterranean world as reflected in literature, architecture, painting, and sculpture. Correlation of historical background. Readings from French, Italian, and Spanish literature in the original or translation. One hour lecture, one hour discussion, and one hour individual conferences. Collaboration of the departments of art and foreign languages. Three hours. Open to juniors and seniors or the consent of the instructor. First semester.

401. SEMINAR. Survey of Spanish and Spanish-American literature. effort is made to provide correlation and supplement for course work. Required for those whose field of concentration is Spanish.

460. METHODS. Lectures, discussions, observation, and practice dealing with modern aims and methods in language teaching. Attention given to foreign language teaching in elementary grades as well as high school. Advanced students only. Offered upon request. One semester. Two hours.

MUSIC

HEIMO LOYA, Professor, Chairman

ELWOOD BALL, Assistant Professor

JAMES DUNN, Assistant Professor

ELAINE CRAY, Instructor

GRACE GAWTHROPE PETERSON, Instructor

with the assistance of

PROFESSOR THOMAS HOFFMAN HAMILTON, of the Department of Art

It is the aim of the Music Department to provide: (1) opportunities for any student to develop an understanding and appreciation of music; (2) a four-year course for students whose interest leads them to concentrate in music as an end in itself, as a preparation to graduate study and for a professional career as a teacher or performer; (3) a four-year course which will comply with State requirements in both education and music for students who wish to become supervisors or teachers in elementary and high schools.

The student desiring to major in music may select courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts: (1) with concentration in Applied Music; (2) with concentration in Music Education; (3) with concentration in Sacred Music; or (4) with concentration in Theory of Music.

The student who is majoring in some other field may elect any courses for which they have the prerequisites.

The field of concentration in music consists of:

1. A departmental unit of 28 hours including Theory I and II, 14 hours (Music 101-102, 201-202); History and Literature of Music, 6 hours (Music 321-322); and Applied Music, 8 hours.
2. Related courses chosen from one of the following areas of specialization:
 - a) Applied Music.
 - b) Music Education.
 - c) Sacred Music.
 - 4) Theory of Music.

All music majors and other students of applied music are governed by the following requirements:

1. They must attend all recitals and concerts.
2. All music majors will be encouraged to take Physics 104, Sound and Elementary Acoustics. It is recommended that this course be taken in the normal succession, Physics 101, 104.
3. All music majors will be required to pass an examination in piano covering material used in their specialized field of concentration.
4. Their private lessons during examination week will take the form of an audition before the faculty of the Department of Music.
5. Advanced notice should be given when the student misses a lesson. Instructors are not expected to make up lessons when the student fails to come at the scheduled time. If a lesson is missed through the fault of the instructor, it will be made up at his earliest convenience.

A total of 40 semester hours may be applied toward the A. B. degree under these conditions:

1. Eight hours of the forty must be applied music for Sacred Music, Music Education and Theory majors, and no more than eight hours may be counted.
2. Majors in applied music must present 16 hours in applied music and no more may be counted.
3. Not more than eight hours in applied music, or eight hours in ensemble music, or fourteen hours in both fields combined, may be counted, with the exception that a major in applied music may count sixteen hours in applied music.
4. One hour of ensemble music taken concurrently with one hour of applied music will be accepted as a semester of Division I-B of the graduation requirements.

The equipment of the music department includes seven teaching studios with grand pianos, seven practice rooms, a Mason and Hamlin Concert Grand piano, a three-manual Schantz Concert Organ (1946), and a two-manual Schantz practice organ (1949). The music library contains 1,500 phonograph records, a collection of miniature scores, a collection of music for violin, voice, piano, and organ, and a carefully chosen list of books on musical subjects.

OUTLINE OF COURSES

MUSICAL CULTURE

227, 228. THE APPRECIATION OF MUSIC. No prerequisite. A survey course aiming to give a feeling for the style of different periods and composers, and some acquaintance with the principal forms of music. Intended for college students who are not majoring in music. The first semester deals with form. The second semester deals with individual composers. This course may be taken either or both semesters. Two hours each semester.

229. MUSIC IN OUR TIME. A study of the contemporary trends in music as manifest in the works of such composers as Stravinsky, Schoenberg, Prokofieff, Hindemith, Bartok, Copland and Barber; and an evaluation of the jazz idiom. This course is designed to give students a background for intelligent appreciation and understanding of modern music. Second semester. Two hours.

321, 322. HISTORY AND LITERATURE OF MUSIC. A study of the growth and development of music as an art. A comprehensive interpretation of the works of music literature in the circumstances, artistic, cultural, and social, which brought them into being. Three hours each semester.

327. SACRED MUSIC. A survey of sacred music from the musico-religious practices of primitive man to the present. First semester. Two hours.

328. SACRED MUSIC. A practical concern for music specifically related to the Protestant Church. Major sacred works from all periods are heard and discussed. A portion of the semester's work is devoted to a critical appraisal of the standard church repertory of anthems, larger choral works, organ literature, and hymns. Provision is made in this part of the course for the student to pursue detailed studies pertinent to his major interest. Second semester. Two hours.

STRUCTURE AND ORGANIZATION OF MUSIC

101, 102. THEORY I. Basic vocabulary, harmonic structure of the phrase, inversions, non-harmonic tones, cadences and dominant seventh chords. Sight-singing, melodic and harmonic dictation, and keyboard harmony. Original composition in the phrase forms. The class meets five times weekly, three of which are lectures. Text: Piston—Harmony. Three hours each semester.

201, 202. THEORY II. Advanced harmony, ear-training and counterpoint. Continuation of Theory I to include advanced harmonic structures, advanced sight-singing, dictation and keyboard harmony. Original composition in two and three-part forms. Writing and analyzing melody in one, two and three voices. The class meets five times weekly, two of which are devoted to counterpoint. Texts: Piston—Harmony. Piston—Counterpoint. Four hours each semester.

301, 302. THEORY III. Musical Form. A study of the development of the larger forms in music up to and including their treatment by composers of the nineteenth century. The approach is by analysis of selected works through score reading and listening. Prerequisite, Theory II. Two hours each semester.

401, 402. ORCHESTRATION. Study of the characteristics and possibilities of orchestral instruments, and of their combination in small groups and in the full orchestra. Reading and analysis of orchestral scores and listening to recordings of instrumental groups. Arranging original compositions for existing musical groups on the campus. Two hours each semester.

403, 404. SEMINAR. Open only to students completing a major in music. Two hours each semester.

MUSIC EDUCATION

311. CHORAL CONDUCTING. Problems and techniques of choral conducting. Principles of group tone production. The organization of various kinds of choral groups. A study of a large selected list of various types of choral literature. First semester. Two hours.

312. INSTRUMENTAL CONDUCTING. Principles and methods of instrumental conducting. Interpretative study of important works and practical experience in connection with the College Band and Orchestra. Second semester. Two hours.

437, 438. THE TEACHING OF INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC. A study of the various aspects of instrumental music in the public schools. The first semester deals with techniques of group instruction, materials and equipment. The second semester deals with principles and methods of conducting school orchestras and bands, to include an extensive survey of the literature. First semester. Three hours.

439. TEACHING MUSIC IN THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS. Music fundamentals, teaching skills, actual teaching methods at different age levels. A comprehensive coverage of music requirements for prospective elementary teachers. First semester. Three hours.

440. TEACHING SECONDARY SCHOOL MUSIC. A study of the general music program in Junior High School, the changing voice, instructional problems and materials for vocal ensembles, operetta production and the special music classes in High School. Second semester. Three hours.

MUSICAL PERFORMANCE

ENSEMBLE MUSIC

251, 252. MONMOUTH CIVIC ORCHESTRA. A laboratory course in the theory and practice of orchestral music, meeting three hours a week for an hour's credit. Registration by permission of instructor. One hour each semester. Students dropping at mid-year receive no credit.

263, 264. CHORAL MUSIC. College Vesper Choir, limited to 48 persons. Students dropping at mid-semester receive no credit. Attendance at Choral Society rehearsals required. Registration by permission of the instructor. One hour each semester.

263a, 264a. CHORAL MUSIC. College Chorale, limited to 16 persons. Students dropping at mid-year receive no credit. Registration by permission of the instructor. One hour each semester.

267, 268. COLLEGE BAND. A laboratory course in the theory and practice of band music, meeting three hours a week for one hour's credit. Students dropping at mid-year receive no credit. Permission of the instructor must be secured for admission to the course. One hour each semester.

APPLIED MUSIC

PRIVATE LESSONS—ONE OR TWO HOURS

151, 152. FRESHMAN VOICE.	355, 356. JUNIOR ORGAN.
251, 252. SOPHOMORE VOICE.	455, 456. SENIOR ORGAN.
351, 352. JUNIOR VOICE.	157, 158. FRESHMAN STRINGS,
451, 452. SENIOR VOICE.	WOODWINDS, BRASS.
153, 154. FRESHMAN PIANO.	257, 258. SOPHOMORE STRINGS,
253, 254. SOPHOMORE PIANO.	WOODWINDS, BRASS.
353, 354. JUNIOR PIANO.	357, 358. JUNIOR STRINGS,
453, 454. SENIOR PIANO.	WOODWINDS, BRASS.
155, 156. FRESHMAN ORGAN.	457, 458. SENIOR STRINGS,
255, 256. SOPHOMORE ORGAN.	WOODWINDS, BRASS.

CLASS LESSONS—NO CREDIT

- 151c, 152c. VOICE.
 153c, 154c. PIANO.
 157c, 158c. ORCHESTRAL INSTRUMENTS.

PHILOSOPHY

SAMUEL M. THOMPSON, Professor, Chairman

The field of concentration in philosophy consists of:

- (a) A departmental unit of at least 24 hours in philosophy including 310, and either 301, 302 or 303, 304.
- (b) Related courses totaling at least 16 hours, chosen from one or two fields with the approval of the adviser.

202. INTRODUCTION TO PHILOSOPHY. An introduction to the general field and problems of philosophy, including the basic ideas and concepts we use to organize and interpret our experience. Open to all students. Two hours.

221. GENERAL PSYCHOLOGY. (For description see Psychology 221). Three hours.

301. GREEK PHILOSOPHY. A study of the development of Greek thought with special reference to Plato and Aristotle. Some attention will be given to the religious and ethical thought of the Hellenic and Roman periods and to the synthesis of Greek and Christian thought in the middle ages. Open to juniors and seniors. Alternates with 303. First semester. Three hours.

302. MODERN PHILOSOPHY. A study of the more important philosophers of the modern period with special emphasis on Descartes, Spinoza, Locke, Hume, Kant, and Hegel. Open to juniors and seniors. Alternates with 304. Second semester. Three hours.

303. INTRODUCTION TO ETHICS. An analysis of basic moral concepts and a study of their application in personal choice and decision. Open to juniors and seniors. Alternates with 301. First semester. Three hours.

304. POLITICAL AND SOCIAL ETHICS. The function of the state, the problem of sovereignty, political obligation, and the ethical problems of economic and social relationships. Open to juniors and seniors. Alternates with 302. Second semester. Three hours.

305. ENGLISH EMPIRICISM. A study of selections from Locke, Berkeley, and Hume. Given by special arrangement. Two hours.

306. PHILOSOPHY OF KANT. A study of selections from Kant. Given by special arrangement. Two hours.

307. NINETEENTH CENTURY THOUGHT. A study of the more important thinkers of the nineteenth century, with major emphasis on British and American thought. Special attention will be given to the scientific and religious developments of the period. Open to juniors and seniors. Alternates with 315. First semester. Two hours.

308. TWENTIETH CENTURY THOUGHT. A continuation of 307, from the close of the nineteenth century to the present. Open to juniors and seniors. Alternates with 316. Second semester. Two hours.

309. PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION. The theories and basic concepts of education, with special emphasis on the aims and values of education, the relation of educational problems to general philosophical issues, and the place of education in society. Open to juniors and seniors. Two hours. (This course is listed also under the Department of Education.)

310. LOGIC. The logical analysis of argument, the tests of truth, and methods of investigation in science, history, law, and philosophy. Open to sophomores, juniors and seniors. Second semester. Three hours. (This course is listed also under the Department of Psychology.)

311. PHILOSOPHY OF HISTORY. A study of the nature of history; the kind of knowledge which history provides, together with the tests of truth which are used in historical judgment; and an analysis and examination of the chief theories concerning the meaning of history. First semester. Two hours.

313. PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION. A study of basic religious concepts, including the relations of faith and knowledge. Special emphasis will be given to Christian thought. Open to sophomores, juniors and seniors. First semester. Three hours. (This course is listed also under Department of Bible and Religion.)

315. AESTHETICS. A study of the values in literature, music, and the other arts, with special attention to the nature of aesthetic truth and its relation to scientific truth and religious faith. Open to juniors and seniors. Alternates with 307. First semester. Two hours.

316. PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE. The nature of scientific knowledge, the development of modern scientific concepts, and the relation of science to other methods of inquiry and to other areas of knowledge. Open to juniors and seniors. Alternates with 308. Second semester. Two hours.

403. SENIOR SEMINAR. Open to students completing a major in philosophy. Given by special arrangement. Three hours.

404. THESIS. Open only to students completing a major in philosophy. Given by special arrangement. Three hours.

PHYSICS

LYLE W. FINLEY, Professor, Chairman

with the assistance of

PROFESSOR GARRETT THIESSEN of the Department of Chemistry

The field of concentration in physics consists of:

- (a) A departmental unit of at least 24 hours including three courses numbered above 300.
- (b) Related courses totaling at least 16 hours, chosen from one or two departments approved by adviser.

NOTE—There are two beginning courses in physics; 101, 102 and 201, 202. Mathematics and science majors who have completed one year of college mathematics are advised to take 201 and 202. Music and speech majors may substitute 104 for 102.

101. INTRODUCTORY PHYSICS. A survey course in the fundamentals of mechanics, heat, and sound. Open to beginners in physics. Three class meetings each week consisting of demonstrations, lectures, informal discussions and quizzes. One laboratory period each week. First semester. Four hours.

102. INTRODUCTORY PHYSICS. A survey course in the fundamentals of electricity, magnetism, and light. A continuation of Physics 101. Second semester. Four hours.

104. INTRODUCTION TO SOUND AND ACOUSTICS. A study of the production, propagation, properties, and measurements of sound waves. Special emphasis on speech and hearing, theory of common musical instruments, musical scales, and acoustics of rooms. One laboratory period each week. Prerequisite: Physics 101 or consent of instructor. Second semester. Three hours.

106. METEOROLOGY. Air temperature and insolation, atmospheric pressure and winds, atmospheric moisture and precipitation, storms and their associated weather types. Applications to air navigation. Open to all students. Three hours.

201. GENERAL PHYSICS. The fundamentals of mechanics, heat, and sound, A more mathematical treatment of these subjects than that of 101 with more emphasis on problems. One laboratory period each week. Prerequisite: Mathematics 102 or 104. First semester. Five hours.

202. GENERAL PHYSICS. The fundamentals of electricity, magnetism, and light. A continuation of Physics 201. One laboratory period each week. Second semester. Five hours.

204. APPLIED MECHANICS. Coplanar forces, forces in space, centroids, center of gravity, friction, moment of inertia, introduction to dynamics. Prerequisites: Mathematics 201, Physics 201 or 203, registration in Mathematics 202. Second semester. Three hours.

205. INTERMEDIATE LABORATORY AND PROBLEMS. A further study of forces, rotary motion, elasticity, and vibratory motion. This course is intended for students who have taken 101 and 102 and who wish to continue the study of physics. Prerequisite: Physics 101. First semester. Two hours.

206. INTERMEDIATE LABORATORY AND PROBLEMS. Intermediate experiments on light and modern physics. Prerequisite: Physics 102 or 202. Second semester. Two hours.

230. RADIO. An introductory course in radio. Three recitations and one laboratory period each week. Open to all students. Four hours.

301. LIGHT. An introductory course in geometric and physical optics. Lectures and laboratory exercises in the laws of reflection and physical optics and their application to optical instruments, phenomena of interference, diffraction, dispersion, polarization, laws of radiation, the nature and fundamental laws of atomic and molecular spectra. Three recitation periods each week. Prerequisites: Physics 101 and 102 or 201 and 202. Three hours.

302. HEAT. An intermediate course in heat and thermal measurements, including the phenomena of expansion, calorimetry, change of state, elementary kinetic theory, and a brief introduction to thermodynamics. Two recitations and one laboratory period each week. Prerequisites: Physics 101 and 102, or 201 and 202, Mathematics 202.

303. ELECTRICITY AND MAGNETISM. An intermediate course in the principles of electricity and magnetism. Three recitations and one laboratory period each week. Prerequisites: Physics 101 and 102, or 201 and 202. Mathematics 202. First semester. Four hours.

304. ELECTRICITY AND MAGNETISM. Continuation of 303. Prerequisites: Physics 303, Mathematics 202. Second semester. Three hours.

306. ANALYTIC MECHANICS. Rectilinear motion, curvilinear motion and rotation, work, energy, and power, dynamics of rotating bodies, plane motion, impulse, momentum, and impact. Prerequisites: Physics 202 or 203, Mathematics 202. Three hours.

308. MODERN PHYSICS. Introductory survey of atomic physics; properties of fundamental particles (electrons, protons); atomic energy levels; excitation and emission phenomena; photon; atomic and X-ray spectra; periodic arrangement of atoms; radioactivity; isotopes; nuclear structures; transmutations. Prerequisites: Physics 101 and 102, or 201 and 202, Mathematics 202.

401. (a, b, c). SPECIAL TOPICS IN PHYSICS. Advanced theoretical or experimental physics. This course is planned to serve as a background for synthetic thinking in the student's field of concentration. Prerequisites: Twenty hours' credit in physics. (a) one hour. (b) two hours. (c) three hours.

402. (a, b, c). SPECIAL TOPICS IN PHYSICS. A continuation of Physics 401. Second semester. Hours to be arranged. (a) one hour. (b) two hours. (c) three hours.

434. TEACHING OF SCIENCE. See Education 434. Two hours.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

GLENN E. ROBINSON, Associate Professor, Director of Physical Education, and Director of Athletics, Chairman

ROBERT G. WOLL, Associate Professor

KENNETH C. GOULD, Instructor

CAROL WIDULE, Instructor

MARILYN McVEY, Instructor

ARCHIE HARRIS, Instructor

The Physical Education Department aims to provide opportunities for students to grow in an environment that is physically stimulating; socially, emotionally and morally beneficial. This is accomplished by providing activities for every interest and all ranges of ability to satisfy recreational needs both now and for the future under competent guidance.

The curriculum in Physical Education for both Men and Women is designed to prepare students for teaching physical education, health, safety, coaching athletics and intramural sports, and directing recreational activities.

The field of concentration in physical education consists of:

- (a) A departmental unit of at least 24 hours including course 455.
- (b) Courses totaling at least 8 hours in biology, consisting of Biology 111-112. Sufficient hours in education and psychology to satisfy state requirements for teachers of physical education. These course include Education 201, 232, 311, 314, and 401.
- (c) Related courses totaling at least 16 hours chosen from one or two subjects which the student is preparing to teach, after consultation with the adviser. (See material presented under Education Department for additional information.)
- (d) Majors in physical education are required to enroll in eight (8) semesters of service classes numbered 100.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

Intercollegiate competition is carried on in football, basketball, track, swimming, golf, tennis, baseball, and cross-country.

COLLEGE REQUIREMENT

Physical Education (in courses numbered 100-199 is required of all freshmen and sophomores. Individual exemptions from this requirement for a semester at a time will be made upon recommendation of a physician or by action of the curriculum committee. Application for such exemption must be made with the Dean of the College at the beginning of each semester. Beginning swimming or passing swimming test is a college graduation requirement of all students.

Freshman and sophomore men engaging in athletic competition must register for Physical Education and must attend class except for the time they are members of a team.

A maximum of four semester hours of credit in Physical Education courses 100-195 will be counted towards graduation.

COURSES IN HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

*P. E. 205. PRINCIPLES OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION. A course in the basic fundamentals of physical education. It is primarily indoctrination for students intending to go into the field of physical education and acquaints them with the problems of the field as well as with the philosophy, aims and objectives of physical education. Open to both men and women. First semester. Two hours.

P. E. 210 PERSONAL HYGIENE. A basic course in the study of personal hygiene and health with special emphasis on development of sound physical and mental health. Prerequisite: Biology 111 or special consent, and sophomore standing. Open to both men and women. Two hours.

P. E. 211. PHYSIOLOGICAL ANATOMY. Human anatomy and physiology of the skeletal and muscular systems with special reference to problems likely to arise in the field of physical education. Prerequisite: Biology 111-112, 104. Open to both men and women. Four hours. To be offered 1956-1957 and alternate years. First semester.

P. E. 220. LEADERSHIP IN PLAY AND RECREATION. A study of the methods of teaching physical education in elementary grades with special emphasis on program content. Open to both men and women. Prerequisite: 205. Two hours.

P. E. 305, 306. ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION IN THE SECONDARY SCHOOLS. The philosophy of physical education, organization and planning of a program of physical education for the high school. For teachers, supervisors and administrators of physical education and athletics in the public schools. Open to both men and women. Both semesters. Prerequisites: junior or senior standing. Three hours each semester.

P. E. 309. CORRECTIVE PHYSICAL EDUCATION. This course deals with posture deviations, study of the human body in respect to injuries most likely to occur in physical education classes and interscholastic athletics. Analysis and practice of body mechanics, corrective exercise and posture training will be considered in this course. It is a practical course and will be essential as background to Health Education 455. Open to juniors and seniors with a prerequisite of Physical Education 211. One semester only. Three hours credit.

P. E. 455. METHODS AND CURRICULUM OF HEALTH EDUCATION. This course is for all those responsible in any way for health instruction in the public school. Special consideration is given to the selection of material and methods of instruction in establishing primary health habits. Emphasis will be given to the drawing up of a course of study which will be in line with the Illinois Health and Physical Education law. Prerequisite: junior standing. Second semester only. Two hours.

P. E. M. 206. ANALYSIS OF TEACHING RECREATIONAL SPORTS. Theory and practice in performing team sports such as: touch football, softball, volleyball, soccer, bowling, to be taught in physical education classes. Open to freshman and sophomore men who intend to major in physical education. Second semester. Two hours.

P. E. M. 301, 302. METHODS OF COACHING AND MANAGEMENT OF INTERSCHOLASTIC SPORTS. Lectures and demonstrations in the fundamentals of football, basketball, baseball, and track. Management of athletics is also discussed. The course is intended to aid students who intend to coach in high schools. Emphasis will be placed on team play in interscholastic sport. Open to both junior and senior men. Both semesters. Three hours each semester.

P. E. M. 303, 304. METHODS, THEORY, AND PRACTICE OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION. The fundamentals of individual activities as carried on in a class of physical education. Formulation of an intramural program will receive emphasis. Those planning to be teachers of physical education should take this course. Practice teaching to meet the requirement as set by the State of Illinois will be arranged. Both semesters. Two hours.

P. E. W. 202. THEORY OF DANCE. A course in methods and techniques of dance with special emphasis upon modern dance. This course is open to any student but required for women majors. Prerequisite: Beginning Modern Dance. One semester only. Two hours.

P. E. 301. ANALYSIS OF TEACHING SPORTS TECHNIQUES. A study of analyzing swimming strokes, and diving and the techniques of individual activities including tennis, golf, badminton, archery, bowling, tumbling, and equitation, and some practice in teaching these activities. Open to junior and senior women. Three hours.

P. E. W. 454. METHODS OF TEACHING PHYSICAL EDUCATION ACTIVITIES. Principles and techniques of teaching and a study of teaching progressions for various activities with major emphasis on team sports. Officiating and practice teaching. Open to junior and senior women. Three hours.

* P. E. Physical Education Classes open to both men and women.

 P. E. M. Physical Education Classes open to men only.

 P. E. W. Physical Education Classes open to women only.

SERVICE CLASSES IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION

These classes are designed to meet the college requirement in Physical Education. Instruction is given in fundamental skills, techniques, and participation in individual sports and team games. Classes meet two times per week for one hour credit. A maximum of four semester hours in these courses will be counted toward graduation.

COURSES FOR MEN

- P. E. M. 100. FRESHMAN FOOTBALL.
- P. E. M. 101. SOPHOMORE FOOTBALL.
- P. E. M. 102. FRESHMAN BASKETBALL.
- P. E. M. 103. SOPHOMORE BASKETBALL.
- P. E. M. 104. FRESHMAN TRACK.
- P. E. M. 105. TOUCH FOOTBALL AND VOLLEYBALL.
- P. E. M. 106. BASKETBALL AND SOFTBALL.
- P. E. M. 107. SOPHOMORE TRACK.
- P. E. M. 108. ARCHERY AND HANDBALL.
- P. E. M. 109. WRESTLING AND BOXING.
- P. E. M. 110. SOCCER AND BADMINTON.
- P. E. M. 111. TUMBLING AND GYMNASTICS.
- P. E. M. 112. VOLLEYBALL AND HANDBALL.
- P. E. M. 113. FRESHMAN SWIMMING.
- P. E. M. 115. BEGINNING GOLF.
- P. E. M. 116. FRESHMAN BASEBALL.

- P. E. M. 117. SOPHOMORE BASEBALL.
- P. E. M. 118. VOLLEYBALL AND BASKETBALL.
- P. E. M. 119. HANDBALL AND GOLF.
- P. E. M. 120. BEGINNING TENNIS.
- P. E. M. 121. FRESHMAN CROSS COUNTRY.
- P. E. M. 122. SOPHOMORE CROSS COUNTRY.
- P. E. M. 130. BEGINNING SWIMMING.
- P. E. M. 131. VOLLEYBALL AND INDIVIDUAL ATHLETICS.
- P. E. M. 145. INTERMEDIATE SWIMMING.
- P. E. M. 150. ADVANCED SWIMMING.
- P. E. M. 195. ADVANCED BASKETBALL.

COURSES FOR WOMEN

- P. E. W. 103. VOLLEYBALL AND SPEEDBALL.
- P. E. W. 105. FIELD HOCKEY AND VOLLEYBALL.
- P. E. W. 106. BASKETBALL AND SOFTBALL.
- P. E. W. 107. BADMINTON AND ARCHERY.
- P. E. W. 108. VOLLEYBALL AND GOLF.
- P. E. W. 109. FOLK AND TAP DANCE.
- P. E. W. 110. MODERN DANCE.
- P. E. W. 111. BADMINTON AND GOLF.
- P. E. W. 112. MOTOR FITNESS.
- P. E. W. 114. BEGINNING TENNIS.
- P. E. W. 115. BASKETBALL AND INDIVIDUAL ATHLETICS.
- P. E. W. 116. SPEEDBALL AND GYMNASTICS.
- P. E. W. 118. GOLF AND MOTOR FITNESS.
- P. E. W. 120. BEGINNING GOLF.
- P. E. W. 130. BEGINNING SWIMMING.
- P. E. W. 132. INTERMEDIATE SWIMMING.
- P. E. W. 154. ADVANCED SWIMMING.
- P. E. W. 192. ADVANCED MODERN DANCE.

COURSES FOR MEN AND WOMEN

- P. E. 117. SQUARE DANCE AND GOLF.
- P. E. 125. BOWLING.
- P. E. 160. ADVANCED GOLF.
- P. E. 165. LIFE SAVING.
- P. E. 170. ADVANCED BOWLING.
- P. E. 190. ADVANCED TENNIS.

Some consideration is given to plans for amelioration of adverse conditions. Text, library reading, and special reports. Prerequisite: Sociology 301 or special consent. Second semester. Three hours.

304A. RURAL URBAN SOCIETY. Consideration of the divergent culture patterns of rural and urban life. An analysis of the differences that characterize the major social institutions. The church, school, leisure, industry and home; consideration of modern trends molding the social life of both city and country. Prerequisite: Sociology 301 or consent. Three hours.

304B. SOCIOLOGY OF THE COMMUNITY. Study of the patterns of various types of communities; their characteristics, group relations and social institutions (home, school, church, government, health, wealth, leisure); and modern trends molding the social life of city and country. First semester. Three hours.

305A. POPULATION AND RACE IN TRANSITION IN THE UNITED STATES. A study of the composition, distribution, movements and cultural patterns of population and ethnic groups in various regions of the United States. Attention is given to problems and trends of population and race in the present day. First semester. Three hours.

306. THE FAMILY. A study of family forms and functions with emphasis upon the social and economic changes which are affecting modern American family life. Open to juniors and seniors. Both semesters. Three hours.

308. INTRODUCTION TO SOCIAL WORK. A survey of the fields and methods of social work. Prerequisite: Sociology 301, 302 or instructor's consent. Second semester. Two hours. Offered 1956-57.

310. CRIME AND DELINQUENCY. A study of the nature and causes of crime with special attention given to the social and personal factors leading to delinquency. A review of the theories of punishment, and an evaluation of the programs of prevention and cure. Prerequisite: Sociology 301 or special consent. Second semester. Three hours.

312. RACIAL TENSIONS AND CULTURAL CONFLICTS. A survey of race and culture conflicts in contemporary civilization; theories of race and culture; relations between racial and culture groups are studied with respect to specific situations in strategic areas of the world. The status of racial, religious and ethnic minorities in the United States is considered with emphasis upon programs of organizations and social movements designed to improve inter-group relations. Prerequisite: Sociology 301 or consent. Second semester Three hours.

316. FAMILY LIVING. An exploration of the major problem areas in marital adjustment with emphasis on insight in meeting these situations. Prerequisite: Sociology 306. Second semester. Three hours. Offered 1955-56.

324. SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY. For description see Psychology 324. Two hours.

352. LABOR PROBLEMS. For description see Economics 352. Three hours.

401. SEMINAR. Reading assignments designed to give a background in the historical development, contemporary survey, and techniques and procedures of research in the field of Sociology. Prerequisite: Senior major standing or consent of instructor. First semester. Two hours.

402. SEMINAR. Reading assignments designed to give a background in research problems on subject of interest to the student. Prerequisite: Senior major standing or consent of instructor. Second semester. Two hours.

404. STUDIES IN AMERICAN CIVILIZATION. An integrated historical, social, and cultural interpretation of life, thought and institutions in the United States from 1870 to the present. Conducted on seminar plan. Prerequisite: Sociology 301, or Philosophy 307, or English 318, or English 352, or History 351. First semester. Three hours.

SPEECH

JEAN LIEDMAN, Professor, Chairman

JACK MILLS, Assistant Professor

HOWARD GONGWER, Assistant Professor

The field of concentration in speech consists of:

- (a) A departmental unit of at least 24 hours in addition to the freshman requirements including courses 221, 222, 303, and 341.

- (b) Related courses totaling at least 16 hours, chosen from one or two fields with the approval of the adviser.

The beginning work in speech is offered on three levels as indicated in the courses outlined. Students will be enrolled in one of the courses which best serve their individual needs. Those enrolled in one of the three fundamental courses are required to have a voice recording made at the beginning and at the close of the semester.

101. FUNDAMENTALS OF SPEECH. For those students with no particular difficulties of speech but who have had no previous courses in the field. Designed to acquaint the student with the terminology of the subject, and to develop ease through coordinated bodily action and correct conversational speech. Reading from the printed page, and short original talks. Both semesters. Two hours.

102. EXTEMPORE SPEAKING. For those students with special aptitude in speech or those who have had a year or more of high school speech. Elected the second semester by those who take 101 in the first semester. A course in practical platform speaking with special emphasis on the material content and speech organization. Delivery of speeches of information and persuasion. Both semesters. Two hours.

104. SPEECH CORRECTION. For students needing minor corrective work. Designed to improve faults of breathing, articulation, pronunciation, unpleasant pitch and quality of voice, and to increase the poise of students suffering from excessive timidity. Analysis of individual problems and assignment of special work for remedial purposes. Substituted for course 101 upon advice of the instructor. First semester and second semester. Two hours.

204. RADIO SPEECH. A course in the basic principles of radio speaking, designed to acquaint the student with script writing and announcing. Rehearsals and practice in interviews, talks, panel discussions, dramatic sketches, and stories are included. Class work will be supplemented by the public address system, recording machine and occasional broadcasts over neighboring radio stations. Prerequisite: Speech 102. Second semester. Three hours.

206. ADVANCED PUBLIC SPEAKING. The course is divided into three units: 1. A consideration of the psychology of influencing human conduct by means of the spoken word; 2. The study and delivery of speeches for special occasions—introductions, presentations, acceptances, welcomes, and various types of short speeches; 3. Practice in the application of the principles of parliamentary law. Prerequisite: Speech 102. Second semester. Two hours.

215. DEBATE SEMINAR. Open only to those who have won a place on the intercollegiate debate squad. One hour.

221. INTERPRETATIVE READING. (VOICE AND DICTION). Mechanics of oral reading; voice production; pronunciation; articulation; phrasing; emphasis; correct use of the elements of voice. Prerequisite: one semester of college speech. First semester. Two hours.

222. INTERPRETATIVE READING. A continuation of 221 with more emphasis upon creative power. Development of vocal energy and the practical working out of the theory of vocal quality, pitch and time. Oral reading of various types of English literature. Prerequisite: Speech 221. Second semester. Two hours.

224. ACTING. This course is designed to acquaint the student with the fundamentals of acting as an art of self-expression. Beginning with a brief consideration of the history and theories of acting, students then proceed to a lecture-laboratory method of adapting techniques. Performance in the one-act play program and acting out scenes from great plays will provide opportunities for practical application of techniques. Second semester. Three hours.

303. DISCUSSION AND DEBATE. The theory of argumentation and the application of that theory in various forms of discussion and debate. A study of evidence, reasoning, fallacies, briefing. Directed discussions, symposiums, committee hearings, panel discussions and team debating. Prerequisite: Speech 102. First semester. Three hours. (Not offered in 1955-56).

315. ORATION SEMINAR. Open only to those who have won a place on the intercollegiate forensic squad.

321. ADVANCED INTERPRETATIVE READING. A course designed to develop skill in the technique of reading, in creative imagination, and in the expression of emotional power. Advanced and difficult materials will be used from the field of literature. Prerequisite: Speech 221 and 222. First semester. Two hours.

341. INTRODUCTION TO PHONETICS. The study of the production and representation of speech sounds. Practice in the use of phonetic transcription with emphasis toward speech re-education. First semester. Three hours. (Not offered in 1956-1957).

351. SPEECH DISORDERS. A study of the disorders in speech, with emphasis upon articulatory and voice defects. Attention given to diagnosis and suggested therapy. Prerequisites: Psychology 221. Three hours.

352. SPEECH DISORDERS. A continuation of Speech 351 with emphasis upon physiological and structural causes. Three hours.

442. THE TEACHING OF SPEECH. Designed for those who expect to teach speech. A review of the fundamentals of speech with emphasis on methods of teaching them. Special attention will be given to the directing of co-curricular activities such as debating, dramatics, and oral reading. The class will review and evaluate speech texts and study current speech publications. Open only to juniors and seniors. Second semester. Two hours. (Not offered in 1954-1955).

DRAMA

136. DRAMATICS. A laboratory course in acting and stagecraft. Production shall consist of one long play and (or) a series of one-act plays directed by the faculty director or by students in Dramatics 445 under the supervision of the faculty director. Students are eligible in the second semester of the freshman year or in any succeeding semester. No credit is given for this course but if the student does satisfactory work he may then become a member of Crimson Masque (dramatic club) and register for a course in dramatics. Registration for Dramatics 136 is made in the department of Speech.

235, 236. DRAMATICS. Open to students who have satisfactorily passed the probationary requirements of course 136 and others who may be admitted after try-outs at the beginning of the college year. Participation in the production of plays for public performance. Acting of various roles; work on stage, property, lighting and make-up crews. One-half hour of credit each semester.

335, 336. DRAMATICS. A continuation of Dramatics 236. Students are placed in more responsible positions on crews, act more difficult roles according to ability, and are eligible for offices in the dramatic club. One-half hour of credit each semester.

435, 436. DRAMATICS. A continuation of Dramatics 336. One-half hour credit each semester.

311. HISTORY OF THE THEATRE. A study of the development of theatre and drama from ancient Athens to modern Broadway. The important contribution of every nation to play-writing, acting, and methods of production. Analysis of the technique of dramatic structure necessary for the study and appreciation of plays. Text book and reading of representative important plays of each period. Open only to juniors and seniors, and to sophomores by permission. First semester. Three hours.

313. PLAY PRODUCTION. The primary aim of this course is to prepare students to direct plays. A study of the problems of the director, organization and duties of the production staff, analysis of dramatic structure, elements of acting, and the preparation of a director's manuscript. (The plays worked out in this course are produced in the laboratory course 136). This course has little practical value unless followed or preceded by the course in stagecraft. Qualified directors must have satisfactorily completed the supplementary courses 313 and 314. Textbooks and the outside reading of plays. Second semester. Three hours.

314. STAGECRAFT. A consideration of the visual elements of play production; the theories of scene design; the building and painting of scenery and properties; problems in costuming; the study of make-up; stage lighting. Practical workshop experience and assignments to various stage crews. Classroom credit two hours; laboratory credit one hour. First semester. Three hours.

445. PLAY DIRECTING. Open to members of the dramatic club (Crimson Masque) who have satisfactorily completed Play Production 313. Each student will prepare a director's manuscript of at least one one-act play and will produce the play either as a laboratory (work shop) performance or for the public. (Whether or not the plays are public will depend upon the program of the season as outlined by the program committee of the dramatic club). In general, student-directors will work with freshmen and new members of the dramatic club in the second semester of the college year. One hour of credit for that semester in which a play is directed. The course may be repeated for credit.
